

RICH FARMER VICTIM OF POISON PLOT

Heavily Drugged, W. S. Brooks of Colusa is at the Emergency Hospital, Unable to Relate the Circumstances

Face of Beautiful Woman Haunts the Half-Conscious Man; Robbery Is Believed to Have Been Motive of Act

The smiling face of a beautiful woman floating about him like a will of the wisp is the last half-conscious recollection of W. S. Brooks, wealthy young Colusa farmer, who was taken from a Southern Pacific train at Seventh and Washington streets by the police at 9:30 o'clock this morning and rushed to the Emergency hospital in an unconscious condition after having been mysteriously drugged.

Brooks, who had $500 in currency, a valuable diamond ring, a large diamond earring and an expensive jeweled watch in his possession on arrival at the hospital, was only able to utter a few broken words in reply to the inquiries of the police after he was given first aid by Hospital Steward Frank Davidson, and it will take many hours of refreshing sleep before he is able to tell a logical and complete story of the incident that led to his being drugged. WOMAN MYSTERIOUS FACTOR IN CASE

Who drugged him or just when the sense-destroying poison was administered, and by whom, Brooks was unable to say as he struggled between moments of half-consciousness and complete mental oblivion to give the police a clue to the mysterious poisoning. Whether it was administered in a cup of coffee while at breakfast in a San Francisco cafe or whether the deadly drug found its way into his veins through the agency of a poison needle the patient was at a loss to say, and the hospital authorities could give no solution of the problem.

The beautiful smiling face of a woman, half familiar and half strange, haunted the vision of young Brooks, it was gathered from his broken words. Whether she was someone he met in San Francisco last night, where he visited a number of cafes, or whether she was a passenger on the Melrose bound S. P. train that passed through the station at the nearly incoherent replies of the youth. BELIEVE MOTIVE WAS ROBBERY

That he was drugged by someone familiar with the fact that he had in his possession money and valuable jewelry the police are certain. Railroad employees along the line as far as Melrose were notified and asked to examine all passengers leaving the train, and particularly to watch for a woman answering the meager description given by Brooks. Brooks' condition was first noticed by the conductor of the train, who at Seventh and Washington streets notified the police and had the drugged man removed from the train.

While the police are working on the theory that a beautiful woman drugged Brooks in an effort to get his money and valuables, it will be many hours before the patient will be able to tell a connected story of the affair, according to the hospital authorities.

EASTBAY CAPTAIN, SUFFRAGISTS' SONS ACCUSED OF SEA CRUELTY

Tales of cruelties at sea, leading even to murder are behind the taking of Captain Adolf C. Pedersen and his sons, A. E. and L. R. Pedersen, to New York City for trial instead of their return on the barkentine Pucko to their homes in Fruivalde. In contradiction of dispatches Mrs. L. R. Pedersen stated today that her husband was at home, but that his brother and father were still away. Pedersen, the father, was captain of the Pucko, a four-masted barkentine belonging to the Hinds-Kolth Company. Its last voyage out of this port took it to Sydney, whence it sailed, supposedly with its former crew, on February 11. Captain Pedersen, upon whom in the past has been bestowed the nickname of "Hellfire Pedersen" by his crew, and his sons have lived for some years in this city. The Pedersens were taken to New York City on the U. S. S. Rochester. Six members of the Pucko's crew were arrested also on the Rochester. He held as material witnesses at the hearing of the Oakland matrons. According to the charges forwarded by the American consul at Cape Town, South Africa, Captain Pedersen and his sons are accused of violating the section of the seamen's act forbidding corporal punishment, during a seven months' voyage last year from San Francisco bay to Cape Town. This punishment is alleged to have resulted in the deaths of the ship's cook and a seaman. Handcuffed followed by beatings with knotted towels and a club are charged against Captain Pedersen and his sons as material witnesses. It is asserted that they were forced to obey orders aboard ship at the point of a revolver. Part of the charge of murder on the high seas is based on the alleged shooting of a seaman, Axel Hansen, jumped overboard two months out of San Francisco. He repented his act and clutched a rope trailing the stern of the brigantine, which Captain Pedersen is alleged to have forbidden any member of the crew to do. The Rochester received the ship's company of the Pucko at Bruvalde where they had been sent by the American consul at Cape Town.

Frederick C. Talbot in Physician's Care Frederick C. Talbot, one of the most prominent lumber dealers on the Pacific Coast, is seriously ill in his apartments in the St. Francis Hotel, San Francisco. It is believed by his physicians that unless unforeseen complications arise he will recover. A cancerous affliction of the throat is said to be the cause of his illness. He is 57 years old. Mrs. Talbot died in the hotel about six months ago. Talbot is a member of the firm of Pope & Talbot.

ANNA BARBE, SLAYER, FREE, EXONERATED

After Taking of Testimony, District Attorney Declares Girl Was Justified in Killing and Asks for Her Release

Young Woman Averts Eyes When Fatal Bullet She Fired Is Shown; Remains Calm Throughout Hearing

Oakland's tragedy of city life—the shooting of Ralph M. Maloney, alias Page, by Anna "Barbe," as the climax of a broken romance, ended in the exoneration of the defendant this morning.

District Attorney Ezra Decoto moved her discharge after a preliminary hearing before Judge George Samuels. Decoto said he felt Maloney was attempting to take from Miss Barbe her home at the time she killed him, and that he felt it part of his duty as district attorney to move her dismissal.

The defendant's true name was revealed as Barbara Lee Maloney. Families of the defendant and of her victim were in court.

The nearest approach to a display of feeling was when George E. Maloney, father of the dead man, was asked by the district attorney to tell the jury what he thought of the girl who had killed his son. He said he was most friendly.

Samuel Dackman at whose house, 210 E. Fifteenth street, the shooting occurred, told of how he had been called to a block in the morning by Miss Barbe who said, "I've killed a man."

He investigated and called the police. He also told of the previous visit Maloney had made to the house and of the shooting. Police Inspector William E. Kyle and Policeman C. E. Jorgensen and M. O. Juley, who were called to the house after the shooting, told of statements made by Miss Barbe that she had killed Maloney and her reasons why she had done so.

Row Splits Governors' Conference

JOBS FOR U.S. BOYS DEMAND OF S.F. MAYOR

Secretary Houston Quits Hall When Ralph Declares Idle Words Will Not Employ or Aid Returning Service Men

Resolution Calls on Wilson to Summon Congress Without Delay to Handle Situation; Japanese Ship Deal Flayed

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Dissatisfaction of western delegates over failure of the conference of governors and mayors to take definite action toward relieving unemployment which had been in evidence since yesterday, culminated in a row during which Secretary Houston left the hall.

Mayor Ralph of San Francisco, who criticized congress yesterday, precipitated the trouble by submitting a resolution which demanded that President Wilson immediately convene congress and in his message demand passage of important legislation which failed at the adjournment yesterday.

The resolution demanded that the President "immediately convene congress to keep it on the job while the country is facing a serious reconstruction period."

The resolution was referred to a committee and action will be taken on it at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Ralph's demand dovetailed with the resolution of the labor union and Democratic mayors and governors, claiming he had no right to raise the resolution until it had been acted on by a committee.

With all due respect to the gentlemen who have addressed us, Mayor Ralph said, "they have not told us a word that we did not already know. We have traveled American night to night and home or good roads ought to be built, but we find out how the poor American here, begging on the streets of New York, is going to get a job. Most of the time the labor union and the right here in Washington, and we want to know what's going to be done."

Ralph's resolution condemned the handling of American ships in Japan and China, and demanded that those contracts be cancelled and replaced with some of the contracts recently cancelled by the shipping board in our country. The resolution also advanced the cause of labor by means of legislation, labor unrest and Western delegates declared dissatisfied.

Lack of Funds Not to Turn Roads Back Says Hines

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The government has no immediate intention of relinquishing control of railroads as a result of the failure of Congress to appropriate funds for the railroad administration. Director-General Hines said today.

Hines also explained that every effort would be made to continue operations as usual to avoid laying off employees and to finance the railroads through private loans or through advances from the war finance corporation.

Although the railroad administration's program of capital expenditures for extensions, improvements and new buildings may be modified, the government will try to continue the projects planned through the next few months.

The railroad administration, Mr. Hines said, did not contemplate raising rates as a means of dealing with its financial predicament.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The salvaging of the hull of the steamer Congress, which was lost in the China sea, is estimated at a cost of $250,000 into the China Mail's liner Nanhai, has laid the foundation for what is feared will become the bloodiest and most bitter fought tug war in the history of San Francisco's Chinatown.

The foregoing statement was made by Chief of Detectives Duncan Macdonald this morning following a report by Detective McGrath, who had been in the Chinatown district, that Chinatown bulletins had been published during the night with this ultimatum: "The hull of the Congress has been salvaged and the tug war between the Chinese and the Americans is on."

Government Officials Are Seized by Radicals and Thrown Into River to Drown; General Strike Grows In Nation: Jena and Eisenach Join in Walkout Movement

SOLDIERS MAKE FORTS OF CAPITAL BUILDINGS

BERLIN, March 4, 4:35 p. m., via London, March 5.—A mob in Alexander platz today made an attack upon two Americans, who are believed to be Red Cross workers, but was driven off by troops, who fired upon them. The Americans were riding in a taxicab when the attack was made.

BERLIN, March 5.—The Spartacans have inaugurated a movement to seize Koenigsburg, East Prussia, and thereby open a route of communication to Moscow so that Bolshevik armies from Russia might move to the assistance of the Spartacan forces, according to an official government bulletin today.

The government, the bulletin states, has sent forces into Koenigsburg with the object of putting down the Spartacan strike movement for the seizure of the town. These troops, adds the bulletin which was issued under date of Tuesday, March 4, disarmed the Spartacan home guard in Koenigsburg after considerable fighting.

Troops of the army corps of General von Luttwitz were brought to Berlin last night to assist in tanning order and are bivouacked in the open spaces of the city. The central telephone office, the central telegraph office, the Reichsbank, food depots, railroad stations and slaughter houses are garrisoned strongly.

The marine division, according to reports last night, announced that it would cooperate with the government troops in maintaining order and repressing looting.

BERLIN, Tuesday, March 4 (By the Associated Press).—Government troops occupied the city and three policemen were injured. Several jewelry stores were raided and a large quantity of ornaments stolen. Bakers and grocery shops in the northern part of the city were pillaged.

Three soldiers Monday night entered the rooms of the Imperial League Against Social Democracy, bound the cashier and abstracted 40,000 marks.

BANDIT IN LONE SPOT HOLDS UP CAR CONDUCTOR

A lone highwayman held up the crew of a West Eighth-street car at 1:20 this morning and robbed the conductor, H. E. Beecroft, 2321 Grove street, of $65.19, representing the change taken on the night's run. W. G. Davis was motorman on the car.

An early morning hunt by policemen after the bandit failed to reveal any trace of the bandit. According to Beecroft, while going east on Eighth street on the last run of the night, the highwayman stopped the car at a crossing and boarded it. Instead of dropping his fare, he suddenly poked a gun in the conductor's face and ordered him to throw up his hands.

While the car was still speeding onward the highwayman took the money, all in silver, from the conductor's register pockets and from the money boxes of the car. He then ordered the car stopped and hurried off in the darkness. The spot is a very quiet section and easily suited to the purposes of a hold-up man.

There were no passengers on the car.

Shot Fired from Home of Poincare

PARIS, March 5.—A man who later admitted his name was Kneiler, and that he was a Russian Jew fired two shots from a revolver from the Palais de l'Elysee, the residence of President Poincare. Kneiler declared that he desired to protest against allied intervention in Russia.

The shooting occurred in the presence of the guards and sentinels. The bullet fell harmlessly on the veranda of the Court of Honor.

Reduced Fares to Service Men Upheld

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Orders of the railroad administration granting reduced passenger fares to officers, enlisted men and nurses of the army, navy and marine corps, were held justified today in a tentative report to the Interstate Commerce Commission by an attorney examiner who investigated a complaint filed by William E. Golden as a private individual contending unlawful discrimination.

WILSON SAILS ON SECOND TRIP TO PEACE MEET

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, March 4.—(By the Associated Press).—President Wilson sailed for Europe on his second trip to the peace conference at Versailles. He was accompanied by his family and a large staff.

There was a light mist, but hardly any wind, and the water was smooth for the start of the President's second voyage to the peace conference. George Washington from her wharf in Hoboken to the Narrows, the entrance to the bay, was quiet and unattended by any demonstration, there was a solemn send-off as the transport passed the harbor forts and the war vessels anchored there.

The wild demonstration that attended the President's first departure from New York was lacking this time. The exact hour of sailing was not generally known and there were no great crowds massed along the waterfront. The river and the bay were almost bare of shipping due to the harbor strike.

Several members of the President's party appeared on the bridge and waved to the crowd of officials who saw them off.

At about 5:25, the George Washington steamed past the Statue of Liberty, making about ten knots. Her only escort at this point was two tug boats fused along on each side of her. Opposite the statue she passed two steamers coming up the river. The vessels exchanged regular whistle signals.

CHINA CLAIMS RESTRAINT BY JAPAN IN 1914

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Japan and Chinese representatives issued a statement to the press today agreeing that the league of nations will settle Oriental problems, but taking contrary views regarding the individual aspirations of their respective countries.

The Chinese, reasserting their claims to Kiaochow and denouncing Japan's "twenty-one demands" on China, openly charged that Japan prevented China from joining the war in 1914 and 1915. After China had notified the allies she desired to declare war in 1914, it was charged she received information from a "certain power" that such a move would be likely to "create complications."

Again, in 1915, she was prepared to enter the war, but Japan refused to assent.

Endorsing the league of nations as the biggest achievement of all times, the Chinese statement concluded:

"We have known little greatness. Maybe much that was lost will be regained under the international order in which we will be free to live our life untrammelled and untrammelled by the type of state whose material greatness is based on war."

The Japanese statement was issued by Marquis Saito in response to a query regarding Japan's attitude regarding the league of nations. It says:

"Japan is completely sympathetic with the great project to establish peace on a just, impartial and firm basis."

"We view the question as much from the general world viewpoint as from that of the Far East. We have been compelled three times in the past half century to resort to arms to maintain peace. We are happy that humanity finally will be able to get a glimpse, although feeble, of the new era in which right will definitely triumph over force."

"I am firmly convinced that China will appreciate our just and legitimate aspirations and will come to a complete understanding with Japan for maintenance of the general security of the progress of civilization in the Far East."

"Formation of the league of nations will contribute essentially to dissipate the current prejudices of men regarding their real interests. This emancipation of human thought will be eminently salutary not only for the world in general, but also for each nation particularly. Future union of the oriental world—of which the population is more than half that of humanity—within the Occidental in sentiments, perfect harmony and lasting good will is a high and sublime vision."

President Talks to New Yorkers Tells of Needs For Nations' League

NEW YORK, March 5.—President Wilson's address last night at the Metropolitan Opera-house, in part, follows:

"My fellow citizens, I accept the invitation of the city just played; I will not come back 'till it's over over there. And yet I pray God in the interests of peace and of the world that that may be soon."

"The first thing I am going to tell the people on the other side of the water is that an overwhelming majority of the American people is in favor of the league of nations. I know that that is true. I have had unmistakable intimations of it from all parts of the country and the voice rings true in every case. I voice myself fortunate to speak here under the unusual circumstances of this evening."

"The representatives of fourteen nations sat around that table—no young men, not men inexperienced in the affairs of their own countries, not men inexperienced in the politics of the world, and the influence of every meeting was the concurrence of purpose of the part of all those men to come to an agreement and an effective working agreement with regard to this league of the civilized world."

TO BE DONE.

"There was a conviction in the whole pulse. There was conviction of more than one sort. There was the conviction that this thing ought to be done, and there was also the conviction that no man there would venture to go home and say that he had not tried to do it."

"Mr. Taft has set the picture for you of what a failure of this great purpose would mean. It has been haunting for this agency of war has lasted of the sinister purpose of the central empires, and we have many of the course that they meant their conquest to take."

"Where did the lines of that map lie? Of that central line that we used to call from Bremen to Baghdad?"

"They lay through these very regions to which Mr. Taft has called your attention, but they lay through untried empires, the Austro-Hungarian empire, whose integrity Germany was bound to respect as her ally in the path of that line of conquest; the Turkish empire, whose interests she professed to make her own, lay in the direct path that she intended to tread."

"And now what has happened?"

"The Austro-Hungarian empire has gone to pieces and the Turkish empire has disappeared and the nations that effected that great result—for it was a result of liberation—are now responsible as the trustees of the assets of those great nations."

"You not only would have weak nations lying in this path, but you would have nations in which that old poisonous seed of intrigue would be planted with the certainty that the crop would be abundant, and one of the things that the league of nations is intended to watch is the course of intrigue."

"Europe is a bit sick at heart at this moment because it sees that statesmen have had no vision and that the only vision has been the vision of the people."

"Those who suffer see. Those against whom wrong is wrought know how desirable is the right and the righteous."

"The nations that have long been under the heel of the Austrian, that have long suffered before the German, that have long suffered the indescribable agonies of being governed by the Turk, have called out to the world, generation after generation, for justice, for liberation, for succor, and no cabinet in the world has heard them."

"Private organizations, plying hearts, philanthropic men and women have poured out their treasures in order to relieve these sufferings; but no nation has said to the nations responsible: 'You must stop; this thing is intolerable, and we will not permit it.'"

"And the vision has been with the people. My friends, I wish you would realize upon this proposition: 'The vision as to what is necessary for great reforms has seldom come from the top of the nations of the world.'"

"It has come from the need and the aspiration and the self-assertion of great bodies of men who meant to be free."

"And I can explain some of the criticisms which have been leveled against this enterprise only by the supposition that the men who utter these criticisms have never felt the great pulse of the world."

"And I am amazed, not alarmed, but amazed, that there should be in some quarters such a comprehensive ignorance of the state of the world."

HUN REVOLTS WILL HASTEN PEACE PACTS

BY UNITED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. LONDON, March 5.—The new revolution in Germany, apparently backed by the weight of the greater part of the workers and all radical elements, had resulted today in growing appreciation of the necessity for speeding conclusion of a preliminary peace.

The British press was advocating moral support of the present German government, as well as supplying the country with food. The newspapers expressed fear that unless this were done the allies would be unable to collect any indemnities. A Spanish victory, they pointed out, might necessitate armed occupation of Germany for an indefinite period.

Frederic Lloyd George departed for Paris today, and was expected to plunge immediately into the work of bringing about the immediate removal of the economic blockade of Germany, as the first step toward a preliminary peace.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. PARIS, March 5.—At a meeting of the German cabinet Monday morning, attended by leaders and delegates of shipowners, it was agreed unanimously, it is understood, that Germany could not submit to coercion from the entente powers either in the armistice negotiations or in the peace parleys proper, according to a Zurich despatch to the Associated Press.

The request of shipping regarding the requisition of ships held to be absolutely inacceptable.

Germany also will oppose the dismissal of German crews from ships requisitioned.

A press campaign has already been started against the armistice and the preliminary peace conditions.

TWO DRUMMERS FLEE AT SIGHT OF 2 LEOPARDS

"Help!"

This was the loud outcry in the lobby of the Hotel Oakland today—and two wild, fearful men fled for protection to the office of Assistant Manager Walter Rounsavell.

"Help! Help! Help!" they shouted. "Leopards with men's faces!"

They were, too.

They were two belated commercial travelers who came in on an early morning train—just as Sam Hume and George Sterling were leaving the hotel in their leopard skins after last night's ball.

Under the circumstances—can blame the drummers?

EXCHANGE CARDS WILL AID MUSIC

The new "student rate exchange card," which has been introduced into the high schools of the East by the advanced section of the East music and finished artists within reach of the student body, is welcomed by Superintendent Fred M. Hunter and the faculty of music, headed by Glenn H. Woods.

The plan, which is designed not only to broaden the scope of musical influence and discrimination of the student, but to permanently establish for Oakland and Berkeley cities musical prestige throughout the East, is as follows:

Student rate cards, covering either single or season concerts of famous artists, will be placed in the high school class rooms, where they may be secured by signature of teacher and pupil and exchanged within given dates, at the box office at Sherman & Clay for considerably less than one-half the regular prices, the pupil's signature acting as his guarantee. The same privilege will be extended to all of Oakland students upon display of their membership cards at the same box office and guarantee of signature.

The first of these series of concerts will open on Tuesday, March 11, at the Auditorium Opera House, when Max Rosen, the greatest of the young violinists now before the public.

Following Rosen will be heard, on Tuesday, March 11, in the same theatre, Madame Brasseur, French opera singer, accompanied by Miss Erin Ballard at the piano. On Thursday, April 24, also at the Auditorium Opera House, Ethel Leginska, "the Queen of Women Pianists," will give a recital, closing the first series of the extensive plan for better music is expected to place Oakland upon the list of Western cities where the musical artists would while.

As an added feature to these attractions the "friends of music" season rate which will permit the great number of music lovers to enjoy the best of such treats by the prohibitive price of admission, to hear them at half the usual cost.

Following the group, closing with Letiska, will be heard Riccardo Stracciari, the Italian baritone.

PRESIDENT REFUSES TO MEET JUDGE

NEW YORK, March 5.—President Wilson has refused to confer with the delegation named by the Irish race convention in Philadelphia to urge his support of Irish freedom, until Justice Daniel F. Cohalan of the New York State Supreme court, mentioned in the Bernstorff correspondence, had withdrawn from the room at the Metropolitan Opera-house, in which the meeting was held.

According to Thomas J. Breslin, a member of the delegation, the President asked W. J. Moran, who headed his secret service bodyguard, to inform the Irishmen of his refusal to attend the conference if Justice Cohalan was present.

At the close of the President's address at the Metropolitan Opera-house, Breslin said, Moran appeared in the room assigned for the meeting and delivered the message. Justice Cohalan insisted upon leaving the room rather than interfere with the conference.

Meanwhile the President, with Joseph P. Tumulty, his private secretary, remained in an ante-room, after having stated he would give Justice Cohalan five minutes to leave. On receiving word that he had done so, the President remained in conference with the Irish delegation for nearly half an hour.

INCIDENT DESCRIBED

Former Supreme Court Justice John W. Goff made the following statement regarding the incident:

"At the request of the committee, Justice Cohalan declined to say anything at the present time, as it is not a personal matter with him."

"A message was received through an authoritative channel stating to me that the President would not enter the room where we were if Justice Cohalan was present. The members of the committee, with spontaneous unanimity, said they would leave rather than permit Justice Cohalan to leave. The Justice Cohalan entered the circle of members discussing the matter and said: 'The cause is bigger than any one man, bigger than I am.'"

The Shipbuilders and Metal Workers of San Francisco Bay District

LETTER NO. 6

To Our 100,000 Employees:

This is a good time to remind you of the helpful part the Iron Trades Council has played in bringing about better working conditions in the metal industries of the San Francisco bay district.

Before 1907 the metal trades in these parts were in a constant ferment of disorder. There were strikes, and more strikes. Neither side understood, nor made any intelligent effort to understand the other.

Work for the men in all crafts was irregular. Employers were losing money. The entire metal industry in this district was on the verge of shipwreck.

Then the Iron Trades Council gathered into its fold the basic crafts of the iron industry. Assurance was given to the employers that the Council was in a position to act as a unit in behalf of its member unions. The employers had also organized, and in June, 1907, the first real peace treaty and working agreement between employers and employees in the iron trades on this coast was signed.

This agreement—the first practical application here of collective bargaining—was the beginning of eleven years of good understanding. Work became more regular. Pay day became a weekly institution in the iron industry.

THE AGREEMENT LAID THE FOUNDATION FOR THE EIGHT-HOUR DAY.

It provided the machinery for its own amendment and for the preparation of new agreements. It protected the workers from lockouts and the employers from strikes.

The industrial peace (and prosperity) which, with few interruptions, followed the signing of this first agreement was accomplished chiefly BECAUSE THE IRON TRADES COUNCIL WAS ABLE TO KEEP ITS CONTRACTS WITH THE EMPLOYERS.

The Council was able to do this because it was able to hold in line its member unions.

The agreement made with the Iron Trades Council during the war emergency—based on the Macy award—will expire April 1st. The California Metal Trades Association, recognizing the good faith of eleven years, has asked the Iron Trades Council for a conference to make a new agreement.

This agreement should be made without delay so that the change from one agreement to another will cause no interruption in work.

The need for an early and satisfactory agreement is even more urgent than during the war, as far as this district is concerned. The future of the shipbuilding industry here depends on our knowing soon exactly where we stand in relation to our employees.

Back up your Iron Trades Council and we can make an agreement that will clear the way for the long, strong, all-together pull that must be made if we are to get our share of the new business.

JOB OVER, BOYS WANT TO RETURN

County School Superintendent George W. Frick has received a letter from his son, Raymond Lincoln Frick, from La Marse, France. The young man relinquished his commission and took the rank of private to get away with the First Division, the first unit to go to France, and has been serving at St. Mihiel, at Toul and at many of the other sectors of the American front.

For something like seven months he was without word from the folks at home, and then began receiving their letters in bunches. He says that he would not trade a block of the U. S. A. for the whole country over there, and that he is coming home with the men is anxious to get home, where he can get a good "feed." He tells about how he and a comrade resorted to diplomacy to prepare for themselves a banquet at a little French cafe, with chops, omelette, jam, corn, beer and bread. The two women who conducted the place never saw canned corn and knew nothing about how to prepare it, and it was with difficulty that they were taught how to warm it up.

The writer says the soldiers are following the peace conference with great interest, getting their information largely from the French editions of American papers, printed in English. He says Germany is like a whipped cat, beaten and conquered, and that it will not hesitate to distribute by encouraging the Bolshevik movement and otherwise. He thinks, however, that it is not necessary to keep the army over there and urges the home folks to speed their return.

Young Frick volunteered before the draft and has been in the fighting since the beginning.

"BEST MEDICINE FOR WOMEN"

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did For Ohio Woman.

Portsmouth, Ohio.—"I suffered from irregularities, pains in my side and was so weak at times I could hardly get around to do my work, and as had four in my family and three boarders it made it very hard for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me. I took it and it has restored my health. It is certainly the best medicine for women's ailments I ever saw."—MRS. SARA SNAY, R. No. 1, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Women who are suffering as she was should not drag along from day to day without giving this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial. For special advice in regard to such ailments write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of its forty years experience is at your service.

Dr. A. L. Cunningham Given Simple Burial

Funeral services were held this morning for Dr. Arthur L. Cunningham at the family home at 741 Wesley Avenue, by Rev. E. J. Van Horn, pastor of the First Congregational church. The services were markedly simple, and the interment was private.

During the past fifteen years he had specialized in surgery and had become recognized throughout the coast as a leader in that work.

Dr. Cunningham's charitable acts have been a feature of his business practice of nearly thirty years, many of which, as a result, was among families unable financially to afford expert service, but for his assistance. Such service was, however, always unostentatiously offered.

The physician came to this state in 1862 from Maine, his birthplace, and he had resided in Oakland since 1911. The illness which led to his death was of eight months' duration. His widow, Mrs. Bertha Cunningham, and son, Arthur Cunningham Jr., survive him.

Pulls Gun Trigger With String; Killed

MODESTO, March 5.—James Bradshaw, 34, of Westwood, was committed suicide with a shotgun last night. Bradshaw tied a string to his foot and then tied the other end of the string to the trigger. The end of the gun was placed in his mouth.

HIGH STREET MEETINGS.

The special meetings at the High Street Presbyterian church are drawing enthusiastic audiences. The music and the messages are reported to be of the highest quality.

The evangelist, Rev. A. O. Dowe, will speak tonight on "Salvation Versus Religion."

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache Is Sign You
Have Been Eating Too Much Meat

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and slow down, you must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithium and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithium-water drink. Advertisement.

BE GENEROUS WITH STOMACH

Give It Nourishing Food and Give It Generous Assistance With Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. For Gas, Heartburn or Distress After Eating.

You may read a library on what to eat and what to avoid. You may follow the rules laid down for dining and still have indigestion, sour stomach and the heavy, drowsy feeling of over-eating. With most people the stomach simply needs the plain, common-sense help afforded by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Not only do they aid digestion, but you may eat sausage for breakfast, pie for lunch, lobster salad for dinner. No gas, no sour risings, no lump in your throat, no biliousness, no headache, no dark brown taste in the morning. This is the result after learning that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets assist digestion, tone the stomach, bring it back to robust appetite. Eat anything you like. These tablets are sold in every drug store in the United States and Canada, which shows how they are esteemed by those who realize how necessary it is now and then to give the stomach a much needed assistance.

The properties in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, combined with that already in the stomach, act upon food and enable the stomach to move on to the intestines the food contents. Try these tablets and get relief almost at once. You can obtain Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at any drug store at 50 cents a box. Advertisement.

Dandruff Surely Destroys the Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid soap, apply it at night when retiring, use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails. Advertisement.

INCREASE FOR 'ACTING' COPS UNDER FIRE

The system of "acting" officers, by which Chief of Police Nedderman through appointing men to three regularly authorized vacancies, has in reality advanced seven policemen in rank and pay, is under fire today by the civil service board.

George Kaufman, acting president of the civil service board has served notice that while the appointment of the three policemen to replace men authorized to take leaves of absence is legal, the appointment of other men to their ranks, and third appointments to take the place of the men appointed to the lowest officers advanced, was illegal.

SAYS IT'S COSTLY.

"In other words," said Kaufman, "the police board has figured out an endless chain of advancements that will be very costly to the taxpayers if we allow it to continue. Men authorized to take regular appointments are being placed in positions, if these appointments are to replace men on granted leaves, but to replace these at the will of the police chief, raising their salaries is not correct."

LIST OF RAISES.

In three appointments to fill vacancies caused by leaves of absence, the list of raises in salaries as designed by Chief Nedderman are as follows:

Inspector James T. Drew, appointed acting captain of police, to take the place of Walter J. Peterson, absent on leave; salary $200 a month. This appointment is legal. Growing out of this came the following appointments, held to be not legal:

To be inspector, John Duffin, at $155, vice Drew; A. M. Sanderson to assistant inspector, vice Duffin, at $145; J. M. Enright to be corporal, vice Sanderson, at $125.

William Emigh, named inspector at $154 vice H. B. Caldwell, on leave for war work; held legal. Out of this, held illegal: Peter Van Houette, assistant inspector vice Emigh, at $145; W. J. Davis, corporal vice Van Houette, at $125.

Vernon Coley, inspector (acting) vice G. D. Powers in the navy, held $155, held invalid; M. O'Reilly vice Coley as corporal, at $125.

The action of the civil service board probably will hold up all salary advances under Nedderman's schedule save for Drew, Emigh and Coley.

Blind Man Injured When Struck by Car

August Wertz, an inmate of the Industrial Home for the Adult Blind, was struck by a street car at Thirty-sixth and Franklin avenues. Wertz suffered concussion of the brain, a fractured collar bone and several broken ribs. According to the car crew he tried to cross the street, not hearing the approaching car.

BEST MEDICINE SHE EVER TOOK FOR HEADACHE

Indiana Woman Is Released
From Pain by Using the Tonic Treatment.

Efficiency has become the business measure of one person's superiority over another. This one succeeds where another fails because of the difference in this quality. Personal efficiency is dependent upon one thing as much as perfect health. If the mind or brain is handicapped with headaches, which cause torture day and night, concentration and continuous effort are impossible and the victim is certain to be left behind in competition.

Sick headaches are also called nervous headaches. The cause varies but it is usually some fault in the body's process of changing the food into blood. Doctors call it "faulty metabolism." The blood loses its tone and the nerves revolt. Patient, reliable men and women, thus become irritable and erratic. Their friends avoid them, their sufferers become melancholy and brood.

This is a serious condition if permitted to continue unchecked, but in many cases it yields in the tonic and laxative treatment. The experience of Mrs. Burns Hutchings of No. 223 South Second street, Terre Haute, Ind., should bring hope to many who suffer. She says:

"I had sick headaches all my life, at least as long as I can remember, and last spring I became completely run down from overwork and I was losing strength rapidly. My headaches nearly drove me crazy and I became pale and thin. Sometimes I had hot flashes and dizzy headaches accompanied by severe nervous spells. I had no appetite and couldn't sleep at night."

"An announcement in a newspaper led me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and after I had taken the treatment for a few days, closely following the directions, I began to feel better. The dizziness was less severe and I could eat a little. I was so pleased with the success of the treatment that I continued it and kept getting stronger daily. I have gained in flesh and feel better than I have for years. The headaches have practically disappeared and I can say without any reservation that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done me more good than any medicine I have ever taken."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood and strengthen the nerves. In this way the general health is improved, the appetite increases and ambition and energy are developed. There has been no increase in the price of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are sold by your own druggist or will be sent direct by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Write today for a copy of the book on nervous disorders. It will be mailed free to any address on request. Advertisement.

86-POUNDER FEARS 220- POUND WIFE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—Fear of a 220-pound woman who lives on Ellis street, was the reason Louis Moskine of Los Angeles, who weighs but 86 pounds, gave Police Judge Morris Oppenheim this morning for his disinclination to return to his wife and two children.

"But I can't go back to my wife without any clothes," Moskine said. "Where are your clothes?" Judge Oppenheim questioned.

Then Mrs. Moskine inserted herself into the situation by saying "They are up at that blonde woman's and he is afraid to go up after them."

The court cut the gordian knot by sending Probation officer Michael Sullivan, who weighs 125 pounds, as a bodyguard for Moskine.

FRENCH ORGANIST SHOWS MASTERY

By ROY HARRISON DANFORTH.

Joseph Bonnet, not more French in nativity and name than in his style of art, last evening set a standard for future judgment of organ playing for an audience that taxed the capacity of the First Presbyterian church. His recital had in it the essence of a prediction as well, that ultimately we shall add the organ to our now more popular concert instruments. How much the wish is father to the thought remains for the future to tell, but certainly that wish was ubiquitous, entertained at the close of the recital. In a popular work on the organ you will read that it "is heard by the majority of civilized mankind once or twice a week throughout the whole year." Precisely the opposite is true, else our neighborhood is not indicative. As against the manifold variety there is in organ literature, we have almost none at all. It ought not to take many such recitals as last evening's supplemented by Lemaire's and similar propaganda, to establish the vogue.

To return to M. Bonnet, it is interesting to note that the Frenchman is a particularly good example of himself in clarity and grace, in a logical forthrightness of execution, supplemented by a nervous tension that does not cloud his transparency, the while it imparts an astonishing force. It is true, disconcertingly opposed to the German's ideal of art, "lots of it," and even escapes the occasional Anglo-Saxon super-gravity. Breadth is less often evident, sensuousness is hardly at all. All of his playing is particularly clear-cut, the conclusions standing out as only the most capable organ touch could make them.

It was when M. Bonnet proceeded from the "Gloria" to the "Prelude" that his playing was particularly clear-cut, the conclusions standing out as only the most capable organ touch could make them. It was when M. Bonnet proceeded from the "Gloria" to the "Prelude" that his playing was particularly clear-cut, the conclusions standing out as only the most capable organ touch could make them.

Thorough musicianship, together with an interesting harmonic treatment, made M. Bonnet's own "Prelude" a valuable addition to the program. His "Gloria" was another. This one succeeds where another fails because of the difference in this quality. Personal efficiency is dependent upon one thing as much as perfect health. If the mind or brain is handicapped with headaches, which cause torture day and night, concentration and continuous effort are impossible and the victim is certain to be left behind in competition.

Two Are Injured in Auto Accidents

Two persons were treated at the emergency hospital yesterday afternoon for injuries received in automobile accidents.

Mrs. R. Harris, 31, of 1522 Eleventh street, suffered a possible fracture of the left leg, when she was run down at Fourteenth and Webster streets by an automobile driven by W. H. Randall, Hotel Touraine.

C. A. Brand, 48, a salesman, suffered a painful cut and bruises when his automobile collided with a mail truck driven by W. D. Arend at Nineteenth and Broadway.

Judgment Is Given for Death of Horse

Judge A. F. St. Sur today gave judgment for $500 in favor of James T. Johnstone against Peer Tiffany of Mt. Eden, for the death of General Villa, a race horse that died while in the defendant's pastures. The defendant claimed that the plaintiff was responsible for the attention of the horse, and that when he became marooned in a canyon where there was no feed or water and starved to death it was the plaintiff's fault. The court sided with the defense and gave judgment.

Arguments Close in Dr. Thompson's Trial

The closing arguments of the attorneys in the case of Dr. James E. Thompson, accused of murder, were ended before a jury in Superior Judge Quinn's court at noon today.

Dr. Thompson is alleged to have performed a criminal operation on Anna C. Goodrich, common law wife of Elmer H. Fudge, in such a manner as to cause her death.

ANTI-GAMING LAW FOR CITY TO BE DRAWN

A new ordinance to place stringent regulations on the playing of cards for money in the city of Oakland will be drawn up for passage by the city council as soon as possible, according to action taken today by Commissioner of Public Health and Safety E. F. Morse.

Morse today notified the city council to instruct the city attorney's office to draw up a new gaming ordinance, stating that recent criticisms by U. S. W. Attorney James Colston had called his attention to the fact that the city ordinance at present is ineffective to avert uncreditable criticism of moral affairs in the city.

While there is no question but that the old gaming ordinance under which card rooms are licensed, as being lived up to, and while it is true that gambling has increased since the city council at the same time has criticized that ordinance, making it mandatory on us to repair the matter," said Morse, "for the sake of the city's fair name."

The present ordinance, said Commissioner Jackson, was drawn up by the Public Welfare League, police judges and district attorneys, and given me to introduce. I want this understood. If it is a failure it is not my fault.

The civil service board, W. H. Edwards remarked that in June he had offered an ordinance making all gambling of any nature a crime, and that it had not been approved. They tried making any card playing a felony," said Morse. "We can if we want, but I think a sensible course would be better."

Morse said that when the new ordinance, which will impose stringent regulations of card rooms, probably eliminating them generally, is ready he will open the matter for general discussion by the council.

CROSS TALKS ON LABOR PROBLEM

Importance of applying the same business principles to the labor problem that govern the conduct of all lines of industry was urged upon business men at a luncheon of the manufacturers' committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce in the Hotel Oakland today.

Professor Ira B. Cross of the community department of the University of California.

Members of the Alameda County Employers' Association were guests of the committee, and it was to them that Professor Cross made a special appeal. Professor Cross was director of a class in employment at the University of California last year under direction of the War Industries Board.

A. Youngblood of the Apex Manufacturing Company was chairman of the luncheon and acted in the chair of the committee. He was assisted by J. H. Korb, who composed some of the luncheon's songs.

Professor Cross made a plea for the harmonizing of employment, and urged employers to pay as careful attention to the selection of the materials used by their plants as they do to the selection of the employees. He is vitally necessary that employers change their methods of employing and handling their help.

"There seems to be a lack of information among employers concerning the labor problem, and this must be overcome if we are to get down to a satisfactory working basis where employers will have more pleasant surroundings. This is the only way to solve this great question of unrest. The problem is one of greatest importance and requires careful thought and action."

TONGMEN IN TROUBLE IN CHINATOWN

Oakland may be the scene of a new long war that will add a third faction to the war now raging in San Francisco, as the result of differences between the Sney Sing and Bing Kong factions here. A dispute over gambling debts ended in a fight and in the arrest of Ah Hong on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon. Ah Hong was arrested after it is said that he threatened two former Sney Sing men now in the Bing Kong tong. The two men concerned were ordered by Captain of Inspectors James Drew to appear today to confer with Hong's friends, but only the Hong faction appeared. The former Sney Sing men yesterday asked for a warrant to arrest Hong. Drew refused this warrant, saying that for a long time he had not issued a warrant might provide a light at once.

Drew stated that if the Chinese desired to prosecute he would have one of his detectives swear a complaint and summon the Chinese to court. He called the conference today to have both sides determine what would be done.

The two men who came in for the warrant were probably acting under instructions, and when they did not show up today it meant one of two things—either the matter will drop or will result in the Chinese factions trying to settle their differences outside the law," said Drew. Drew issued a general warning to Chinatown today that any shooting here would mean closing up Chinatown at once. By this means he expects to halt any possible trouble.

The exact details of the quarrel in Oakland's Chinatown were not made clear by the complainants. Originally, from an earlier report, the war was a dispute over a lottery ticket on which winnings were not paid. The parties involved are all younger Chinese, and apparently the dispute is without the sanction of the older tong heads.

The fact that the Sney Sing is said to be involved in trouble across the bay might make the fight there a three-cornered affair if the Bing Kong become involved.

ABANDONMENT SUIT DROPPED

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—Her broken heart somehow mended, Edna Beaudant Harris decided today not to proceed with her charge of wife abandonment against her husband, Arthur Harris, well-to-do representative on this coast of a Chicago company. That the cash settlement which Harris had effected with his wife out of court had anything to do with the settlement of the charges neither principal was on hand in Judge Matthew Brady's court this morning for trial.

Attorney Sidney Schleissner was there for the wife and Attorney Rose Jones of Oakland for the husband. Upon a stipulation, which they had entered in behalf of the warring pair, the court dismissed the charge.

Mrs. Harris, who is twenty years old now, was wedded to Harris less than a year ago. The wedding followed a courtship remarkable for both its ardor and speed at the home of the bride at Winemere, Nevada, where her father is a wealthy mining man. Seven months after their marriage, Mrs. Harris eloped, bearing a child, and then told her husband that she was going to Australia, leaving her "only $200."

When Harris, returning a month ago from Australia, walked down the plank of his steamer his wife was there. She says he greeted her with: "Don't blame home, I'll see you tomorrow."

Then she filed the suit.

Divorce Secured From Entertainer

Judge Harris today gave a divorce of divorce to Sydney R. Jacobs against Ruth Mary Jacobs who preferred being an entertainer in order to having a home and husband. When she told her husband that she was going to be an entertainer he replied to her that it would all be off between them if she did. Disregarding his objection she went to work in Oakland, then in Los Angeles and later in Utah. When he served her with the divorce papers, she wrote him declaring that he was a mean thing, that he should have waited until Christmas when she would come home and they could talk it over. Jacobs lived at 715 Fourteenth street.

Who Benefits by High Prices?

You feel that retail meat prices are too high.

Your retailer says he has to pay higher prices to the packers.

Swift & Company prove that out of every dollar the retailer pays to the packers for meat, 2 cents is for packers' profit, 13 cents is for operating expenses, and 85 cents goes to the stock raiser; and that the prices of live stock and meat move up and down together.

The live-stock raiser points to rising costs of raising live stock.

Labor reminds us that higher wages must go hand in hand with the new cost of living.

No one, apparently, is responsible. No one, apparently, is benefited by higher prices and higher income.

We are all living on a high-priced scale. One trouble is, that the number of dollars has multiplied faster than the quantity of goods, so that each dollar buys less than formerly.

The Woman Who Suffers.

Who does not know women and young girls who are continually in tears? Who always see the dark side? Who have frequent fits of melancholy without any apparent cause? The intelligent physician will know that it is some derangement of the complicated and delicate feminine organs. The young girl suffers bodily and mentally in silence. There is undue weariness, unexpected pain, unreasonable tears and fits of temper.

Doctor Pierce's Favorite

Prescription exerts a wonderful power over woman's delicate organism. It is an invigorating tonic and is prescribed for the peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and painful derangements of woman. Careless, easy-going doctors frequently treat their women patients for biliousness, nervousness, dyspepsia, liver or kidney troubles, when the real sickness is in the organs distinctly feminine, and no help can come till they are made perfectly strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, in tablet or liquid form.

Roseburg, Oregon—"There is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for all diseases with which a woman is troubled. I took it when troubled with inflammation and it cured me. I have also taken it during expectancy and I was so well all the time; had no headache, no backache, no morning sickness, no sour stomach, no bloating."—Mrs. M. B. Hughes, Mosher St.

Pretty Tea Is Given at Burchaell Home

The last of pre-lenten afternoon teas was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Clarence Burchaell, whose pretty residence in Pacific avenue was artistically arranged in a profusion of daffodils, scyllas and varieties of all the spring blossoms. Assisting the hostess to receive were a coterie of her most intimate friends. The guest of honor was Mrs. Martin Wade Jr., who has just arrived from the east and will remain here until her husband returns from overseas duty. Among the guests besides Mrs. Wade Jr. were Mrs. John Holland Mallett, mother of the hostess; Mrs. Fowler Mallett, Mrs. S. W. Burchaell, Mrs. Harold Danforth, Mrs. Randolph Nickerson, Mrs. E. L. Thompson, Mrs. George Plummer, Mrs. Thompson Price, Mrs. Louis Mason, Mrs. Herbert Oranson, Mrs. Curtis Barbour, Mrs. Malcolm Gilmore, Mrs. Bert Church, Mrs. Charles John Roberts, Mrs. L. J. Mrs. Frank Makinson was host last evening to a party of guests at her home and later all motored to the Hotel Oakland to take part in the Mardi Gras.

A surprise party was given recently in honor of Miss Mary McNeill of Marysville, the affair held at the home of Mrs. H. C. Brown, who Mrs. McNeill is visiting.

The fact that Mr. and Mrs. Walter Prick are to make their home on the other side of the bay brings regret to their large circle of friends hereabouts. Mrs. Prick was one of the authors of the ball last evening, representing the character of "Vanity."

TAKE APARTMENTS AT COUNTRY CLUB. For the remainder of the season, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fox have taken apartments at the Country Club, choosing their residence in Rockridge. Both taking a fancy to outdoor sports, spend much of their time upon the links.

Mrs. August Schilling has sent out cards for a luncheon to be held March 12 at her home in the Lakeside district. Miss Elsa Schilling will assist her mother in receiving the guests.

SANTA BARBARA BELLE HONORED. In honor of Miss Priscilla Works of Santa Barbara, who is the house guest of Miss Muriel Houghton of San Francisco, a very delightful affair has been given. Recently Miss Elizabeth Clay entertained at an informal dinner party. Monday evening Miss Houghton gave a supper party, a score of the younger married set and debutants attending. Among those present from the east side of the bay were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Houghton, Miss Elizabeth Clay, Lieutenant Lyman King and Joseph Bell.

Mrs. John Louis Lohse is to be married at the Lakeside district. A group of friends, who have played bridge together for a number of seasons. The affair will be very informal.

MESSAGES OF SYMPATHY SENT. Messages of sympathy have reached the home of Mrs. Robert C. Weber, since the passing of Mr. Weber on Sunday last. The lady had come from Portland to visit with Mrs. Campbell, their daughter, who was guests at the Hotel Oakland.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Hoover visited at the Lakeside district. Mr. Hoover has just been appointed first vice president of a large construction company in California and Arizona. They formerly resided on Vernon Heights.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING IN PIEDMONT. At the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hughes of Piedmont, Monday evening, Miss Josephine Hughes became the bride of Frank Eric Lee, former University of California man, who is now in the service of the United States Navy. The ceremony was held by Rev. H. H. Harrison of San Francisco, according to the rites of the Episcopal church. The ceremony was witnessed by immediate members of the family and close friends. Miss Hughes has many friends in Piedmont, to whom the wedding came as a pleasant surprise. After the bride was by her sister, Miss Betty Hughes, Gilbert Foote was best man for Mr. Lee.

The bridegroom, who is a graduate of the University of California and member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, has just returned from overseas duty and has received his honorary discharge from the army.

The future home of the couple is to be in San Francisco.

SHOWER GIVEN FOR BRIDE-ELECT. Miss Margaret Martin entertained a number of her sorority sisters in honor of Miss Ruth Carmichael at a tea and shower at her home on Pacific avenue, Saturday. Miss Carmichael is the fiancée of Lieutenant Thomas D. Martin, who returned recently from France, where he was in active service, to the Aviation branch. Miss Carmichael is a sister at the University of California and a member of the Alpha Kappa Sorority.

Miss Margaret Martin is a graduate student in jurisprudence and member of the Phi Kappa Alpha and Phi Beta Kappa fraternities.

Among the guests were Miss Margaret Sherman, Miss Helene Hickman, Miss Phyllis Hawley, and Mrs. Martin.

Women Will Seek Books For Girls

By GEORGIA C. BORDWELL. A drive for books is on—books suitable for the girls who use the Girls' Club of the War Camp Community Service at a haven from lonely evenings. There are a world of things to do at the club. There are classes in folk dancing and classes in French. There are activities of many kinds, but there are also girls who have worked all day and who are too tired to do anything but sit in an easy chair and read. For such as these this plea is made. Send your old books to the club library or to any branch of the library. Green, Barbara, has offered to have the books sorted and listed and sent to the club rooms. Those who have ever known the longing for "something to read," are asked to remember now it is to send a book or two to the girls.

WOMEN ASK SOLONS TO VOTE FOR BILL.

Leon Gray, assessor from the district, has received within the last few hours a gentle hint that the women of the community are in favor of the community property bill, which is pending in the Legislature. The bill, which is known as the "Gray Bill," is a measure to give women the right to own property in their own names. It is a bill that has been introduced by Senator Gray and is now being considered by the Senate. The women of the community are asking the solons to vote for the bill, as it is a measure that will give them the right to own property in their own names.

Should California pay the mother for each child born?

This vital problem is discussed with startling illumination by W. L. George in March Good Housekeeping. It crystallizes one of the most important issues in human life.

Should Motherhood be insured by the State? In England it is done and it must be recognized here.

The progress of society and the wastage of war demand it. Is it possible that such a law will be passed? Is there a legal as well as a moral basis for it? What form will the payment take?

EXPLAIN NEW LOAN FOR EXEMPTIONS

The following telegram from Secretary of the Treasury Carter Glass explaining tax exemption features of the Victory Liberty Loan Act has been received by Governor James K. Lynch of the Federal Reserve Bank.

It is perhaps not generally understood that under the terms of Section (a) of the Victory Liberty Loan Act, the interest received on and after January 1, 1919, until the expiration of five years after the termination of the war, an amount of bonds of the First Liberty Loan converted, the Second Liberty Loan converted and unconverted, the Third Liberty Loan converted and unconverted, the Fourth Liberty Loan converted and unconverted, the principal of which does not exceed $100,000 in the aggregate, owned by an individual, partnership, association or corporation, will be exempt from taxation, excess profits and war profits taxes now or hereafter imposed by the United States, upon the income or profits of individual's, partnerships, associations or corporations.

Not only is this exemption in addition to all other exemptions heretofore conferred, but it is independent of any subscription to the Victory Liberty Loan, and is immediately effective. The Victory Liberty Loan Act also contains a provision authorizing the secretary of the treasury to extend the privilege of converting 4 per cent bonds of the First Liberty Loan converted and 4 per cent bonds of the Second Liberty Loan into 4-1-4 per cent bonds, the higher interest rate to be effective from the semi-annual interest payment date next succeeding the date of presentation for conversion.

"Having recommended that this conversion privilege be so extended, I shall of course, very promptly exercise the authority thus conferred upon me and issue regulations covering the details."

H. K. MALLORY DEAD.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Henry R. Mallory, president of the Mallory Steamship Company, and former head of the Atlantic Gulf and West Indies Steamship Company, died suddenly today at Winter Park, Fla., according to a telegram received tonight by his brother, Robert Mallory. Heart disease was the cause of his death.

Tonight! Take Dodson's Liver Tone! Better Than Calomel For Liver

Calomel sickens! If bilious, constipated and head-achy read my guarantee.

Listen to me! Take no more sickening, salivating Calomel when bilious or constipated. Don't lose a day's work!

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with your bile, crushes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents. Take a spoonful tonight, and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous by morning, I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of Calomel because it is real liver medicine, entirely vegetable, therefore it can not sicken or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless, doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.—Advertisement.

IN THE WAKE OF THE WOLF

CAPTAIN E. D. TRUDGETT'S STORY OF HIS EXPERIENCES AS A PRISONER ON THE GERMAN SEA RAIDER WOLF.

At Heidelberg we had to muster at 10:30 o'clock. We were supposed to be up by 9 o'clock so the orderlies could clean up the room. Each morning we were brought acorn coffee and hot water. We had to be in barracks by 9 o'clock at night. There was nothing special to do in the morning before muster. We played billiards or walked around. The prison barracks were part of a big military encampment established before the war. There were 500 officers in the stone barracks and about 200 in wooden huts built afterwards. We were walled in with barbed wire, with sentries patrolling outside the wire, say six feet from the wire. Then there was a six-foot board fence, with sentries outside the board fence. The stone barracks building was four stories high and from the top floor we could look out three railroads joining at Heidelberg and a big bridge below the barracks. Nothing unusual in the way of war experiences happened there. One British officer walked out of the prison grounds one day dressed in the clothing of a French orderly. He was captured and brought back in the clothing of a French orderly. I believe he got fifteen days in jail for trying to escape. The jail was back of the guardhouse. An orderly could leave the prison grounds without much trouble, for many of them were employed on ranches.

The commandant at Heidelberg was on the outskirts of the Black forest, at an altitude of 2400 feet. The climate is very healthy but none too warm. It is in a valley of the German Alps and the country around about is very beautiful. I suffered a little from the cool weather until I got used to it. It is never hot, even in summer. We had the German Alps and the Black forest for scenery. Villingen is really a forest resort place. There are many hotels in the woods. We walked to some of these hotels later. There was always snow on the mountains and snow starts falling in Villingen about October 1.

DANDRUFF MAKES HAIR FALL OUT

A Small Bottle of "Danderine" Keeps Hair Thick, Strong, Beautiful

Girls! Try This! Doubles Beauty of Your Hair in a Few Moments

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first, but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and craggy, just apply a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine for a few cents at any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.—Advertisement.

over Heidelberg. The orderlies were quartered on the top floor. There were several hundred German soldiers being trained—perhaps a regiment. We could hear the heavy guns on the western front and an eagle could see the flashes of the bursting shells as the allies bombed Mannheim and the German anti-aircraft guns shelled the raiding aircraft.

An effort was ever made to bomb Heidelberg, because Heidelberg was known to be a prison camp, and there was nothing to be gained by attacking it, but Mannheim was a great munition depot. There were was a decent sort of an old fellow, a naval officer, I think. His son was an English prisoner of war, captured on the western front.

CHAPTER 13.

Help From Home.

It was at Heidelberg that we got in touch with the Y. M. C. A. through a man named Hoffman, an American by birth but of German descent, who was presented from leaving Germany when the war started by reason of his German parentage. The Y. M. C. A. was the first and the only American war relief organization we knew of until later the Red Cross aided us from there. We got our first supplies and our visit through the Y. M. C. A. I do not desire to take part in any controversy, and I know nothing of the merits of the demands of the controversy now going on. I am simply giving my experiences on the ship and in German military prisons as these experiences occurred. The Y. M. C. A. first came to our relief, and the relief was certainly appreciated for it was a big help to us.

Through Hoffman we got emergency rations from Copenhagen. We got four altogether. This first ration consisted of: One can each, one can butter, one loaf bread, one can of beef tea preparation, one can milk, two packages barley mush, one bar soap, one can beans. When we got in touch with the American Red Cross at Berlin after these rations from Copenhagen were stopped. Another ration sent us was: Two packages cigarettes, three one-pound cans of beef, one pound prunes, one loaf bread, one-half pound corn, two packages, two pounds crackers, one pound sugar.

We were given a "housewife" which contained socks, threads, postcard, safety razor, toothbrush, candle, shoe laces, package of sweets and a package of beans.

Another ration sent us contained: Two cans meat, two pounds pork and beans and one pound of butter, one package salt, five packages cigarettes, one loaf bread, one pound rice.

We left Heidelberg for Villingen about May 1. We had a six weeks' stay. All the British, French and Japanese merchant marine prisoners had left two weeks before. We thought that because we were kept back that we were up for exchange or release. Heidelberg being the exchange depot between the allies and Germany. But we were ordered to leave camp May 1 for Villingen, twenty-five miles from the Swiss frontier. Villingen is perhaps 200 miles from Heidelberg in a direct line, but we traveled in a roundabout way. We were informed that Villingen was to be a camp for American prisoners. But being nearer the frontier, we still had hopes that the move to Villingen was another point on the journey to liberty.

On our arrival at Villingen we found 255 Russian officers, mostly captured in the first part of the war, and a few German officers. Each American doctor who was prisoner and who had been captured with the British prisoners in the big German offensive of April, 1918, when the Germans took 125,000 British and French prisoners. The American doctors could tell us nothing of the progress of the war and the German offensive had apparently been a success. The American doctors were not then in communication with the Red Cross nor the Y. M. C. A.

Hoffman, the Y. M. C. A. man whom we left at Heidelberg, turned up at Villingen a week later and visited us about once every two weeks. He furnished us with a library of about 700 books and with dumb bells, boxing gloves, tennis balls, volley balls and basketballs. He also supplied us with a phonograph, a selection of records, and with other musical instruments. Through Hoffman and the Y. M. C. A. we were offered the privilege of having our personal checks cashed at a bank in the United States. The checks we sent or gave to Hoffman, no matter on what bank they were drawn in the United States and regardless of the fact that the Y. M. C. A. had to take a chance on our checks being bona fide. The Y. M. C. A. did a lot of this business. We would send our check to Berlin and in two or three days we would get the money back. Then we changed the money in Villingen prison camp.

A Norwegian Y. M. C. A. worker also visited us. There was also Lieutenant McDowell, a captured American who was a prisoner at Villingen. After the armistice, McDowell was sent to Berlin to take a Y. M. C. A. war work. Colonel Brown, senior American prisoner official, was instructed to forward McDowell to Berlin on a pass supplied by the German government.

Writes about FOLKS AND THINGS

Did you see the story in the paper about the girl who had a woman arrested and put in jail for slandering?

The girl was young and well-to-do—she has a good position in some millinery shop or other, as the paper said, wears neat and rather smart shoes and is pretty.

She lives at home with her mother, brother and sister—and she has a sweetheart. That's what all the trouble is about—the sweetheart.

The woman who was arrested said something about the girl in the street, and the sweetheart teased the girl about it and the girl had the woman arrested for slandering.

The woman who was arrested was almost scared to death when the policeman came after her. She has a husband and four little children, and the baby has been ill for some time. The woman cried and begged the girl to forgive her.

But the girl laughed when she heard about the children, and would not withdraw the charge. So the mother left three of her little children at home alone and went to jail taking her baby with her. And the girl who had her arrested seems to think it is all just exactly as it should be.

UNFORGIVING NATURE

Perhaps it is—who knows? Perhaps the woman with the four children talks faster and says more than she should. Perhaps those few days in jail will teach her to bridle her tongue.

But do you know what I would do if I were the sweetheart in the case? I would break my engagement with this extreme, just some person—and I wouldn't be her sweetheart another day—no, not even if she had eyes like purple pansies or hair as black as night and a voice like dripping honey.

I wouldn't be myself up for life with an unforgiving nature like that for all the promises ever made this side of the Garden of Eden.

"You are five minutes late—where have you been?"

"What did you do with the $5 I saw you put in your purse yesterday?"

"I was looking at you when you smiled at that girl this morning."

"You forget your wedding anniversary—I shall never forgive you."

"Can't you hear three sentences and a dozen like them coming rushing down at you from the future of the man who marries a girl who smiles upon the fact that she cannot forgive?"

"I am not generous," said a woman I know not long ago, "but I know I am just."

And she, who was so proud of being just, as she called it, turned a helpless little girl out into the street because the little girl had done wrong and ought to suffer for it.

Just—oh, heart of iron, give me no such justice!

I don't want justice for myself nor for those I love. I want mercy, sympathy, forgiveness. And until I am so perfect that I need none of these things, I pray I may never forget to give them, and to give them, freely and with an open heart.

THE BETTER WAY.

So she slandered you, did she, my high-headed, proud young woman, with your beauty and your youth and your home and your friends—she, the poor, little, friendless, hard-working mother? What a pity you couldn't forgive her for it—and make her your loving friend for life.

Wouldn't it have been nice if you could have gone to the little girl who had slandered you, and said to her in her crowded little flat, and in a

Adele Garrison's New REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

He opened his eyes wide and looked at me as if he had never seen me before.

"It isn't like you to be shrewish, Margaret," he said disapprovingly, "and I think you'll find you are mistaken about the lady's real feelings."

There was an unpleasant note in his voice, and I realized that things were more radically wrong than I had thought.

I realized something else, too, with a little flash of humiliation at the time, when I had contrasted Dick's behavior with my brother-in-law's unflinching courtesy. Jack, too, could be brutally discourteous when he chose, I saw, and with the sudden flash a repentant yearning for Dick.

"Look here!" Jack said abruptly, and there was something imperious in his tone. "I think I'll tell you all about this thing. Then you'll realize better what you are talking about."

"Not now," I cautioned beneath my breath, as I saw that our dialogue was attracting the attention of the other diners. "Perhaps after dinner."

"All—!" Jack did not finish his answer, for peering high above the merry voices of the diners came an imperious ringing of the doorbell.

Something akin to remorse crept into my heart as I heard Dr. Pettit telling me that he had been eyes where I was concerned. It was not the words that troubled me, but the tone in which they were uttered. It had a tenderness of emotion I had heard in his voice before, and it told me more plainly than ever a truth I had tried long to disregard—that the young physician's interest in me was still something warmer than friendship.

I tried to acquit myself of any blame for this condition of things, tried to tell myself that the man was wholly unwarranted in his feeling as far as any encouragement of mine was concerned. Then my memory, always relentlessly accurate, brought back stray words and glances of mine, trivial and harmless enough in themselves, but which my conscience told me I never should have directed toward Dr. Pettit when I had any reason to suspect the nature of his feeling for me.

I had solved my conscience before with the excuse that my wholly innocent friendship with the young physician—if so slight an affair could be called a friendship—had been a chapter of accidents, most of them caused by Dick's neglect of me. Our meeting at the Madison Square Garden, as an instance, on the night of the President's speech, there was a direct result of Dick's desertion of me in the crowd in order to rescue Edith Fairfax, the young art student from Virginia, whom, later, I had had so much cause to distrust.

I brought another painful thought to my mind. Memory painted a faithful picture of the day I found the little kodak print of her and Luddy in his children's drawer, and of the sharp temptation that came to me then to revenge myself upon Dick by entering into a mild flirtation with Dr. Pettit. That my common sense had prevented me from yielding to the temptation didn't save me from flushing shamefacedly as I thought of that day.

bit of candy for the children and invited them all, every one of them, to our wedding!

Well, you are young yet. Some day you may look back and wish you hadn't made so much of a fool of yourself, and doubt seems to you, "absolutely just."

THE STRANGER ON THE OTHER STREET

The stranger on the other street whom I have never chanced to meet may have a code of honor fine. That's every bit as strict as mine. It may be he is clean of speech. And only decent things would teach to children in a kindly way.

But I don't know, and so I say, for fear of dangers dark and grim, I will not trust my boy to him.

The stranger I have never met may be a gentleman, and yet I will not let my youngsters go to learn from one I do not know. When he's in trouble, he shall come to me, for I shall be his chum.

For did my boy shall never go into a man I do not know. The risks too great. I would not dare.

To trust him to a stranger's care.

I'll know myself the games he plays. His comrades, and I'll know their ways.

I'll put my selfish pleasures by To keep on him a watchful eye. When he's in trouble, he shall come to me, for I shall be his chum.

FAMOUS ARTISTS AND THEIR MODELS

Here are WALTER RUSSELL (left) and PENRYN STANLAWS, famous artists, with the models they declare are typical of American feminine beauty. Russell's example is the mysterious "Christine" who startled New York at a recent artists' ball. Stanlaws is arranging the drapery of Miss Madeline Gildersleeve, who appeared in a water phantom, "Fountain of Youth." It would seem that Ponce de Leon and the other old boys wasted their time.

Lucrezia Bori on BEAUTY

There is nothing more deary to beauty than oily hair. It gives a woman an unkempt look, because oily hair usually has a way of hanging in short ends around the face and neck. Even when naturally curly it is impossible to keep it waved and tidy looking.

Frequent shampooing will somewhat prevent oiliness, but it will not overcome the cause. After washing and rinsing your hair in warm water, you should always rinse it through cold water or apply cold water to your scalp with a shower nozzle.

This cold application closes the pores of your scalp and prevents the oil glands from becoming quickly active on account of the warm applications and the stimulating massage that accompanies a shampoo when soap is rubbed into the scalp with the finger tips.

If your hair is inclined to be oily you should be careful of the soap you use. A good drying shampoo for oily hair is made by the following ingredients:

Bay rum 1 quart
Alcohol (56 per cent) 1 pint
Water 1/2 pint
Carbonate of ammonia 3 drams
Carbonate of potash 4 drams

The carbonates should be dissolved in the water first, and the alcohol and bay rum should be added when the powders have dissolved.

This shampoo should be sprinkled upon your scalp and rubbed into your hair thoroughly. A foamy lather will result. This lather should be wiped off gently with the pressure of a soft towel. The remaining moisture should be allowed to dry on your hair.

The application of a good stimulating tonic should be applied to your scalp every other night. Your hair should be thoroughly brushed each night with long, even, gentle strokes. Brushing is supposed to distribute the oil through your hair, but it will also stimulate your scalp into a healthy activity and help get it into a normal condition when an excess of oily excretion will gradually be overcome.

Sometimes a scalp is both oily and inactive. In this case there seems to be insufficient life and circulation. A beneficial tonic for this type of scalp or, indeed, for any oily hair, contains the following:

Tincture of cantharides 4 drams
Tincture of capsicum 2 drams
Tincture of nux vomica 8 drams
Cocaine oil 10 ounces
Alcohol 10 ounces

Shake this tonic well before using, and don't apply it too vigorously to your scalp at first. Remember that your scalp and hair should be handled gently.

that the snow was melting under the trees and bushes.

"But it isn't spring yet," thought the bunny rabbit, "the ground is still cold and wet and snow. But it's very nice to have it warm and melting now."

And some of the animal children seemed to think so, too, for as Uncle Wiggly hopped along, his pink nose twitched as fast as anything, all of a sudden he heard his name called.

"What is it?" he asked, stopping and looking around the woods where he was.

"Come on over and play store with us," called Sophie Bushbail, the rabbit girl.

"Yes," added Joannie Bushbail, the rabbit boy. "We're having lots of fun."

"Well, it does look so!" laughed Uncle Wiggly.

On an old stump, with a flat, broad top, like a table, Sammie and Susie Littlefoot, Joannie and his brother, Alice, Jackie and Peetie, four Wows, the puppy dog boys and Lulu, Alice and Joannie, Whitey, the ducks, had started a little play store.

Rais of Lulu, old acorns, stones, some dried grass and other things were sugar, salt, mustard, flour, potatoes, condensed milk—whatever you can buy in a store, you know.

"Don't you want to buy something, Uncle Wiggly?" asked Susie.

"Why, yes. Give me a loaf of bread," said the bunny. "I heard Nurse Jane say we needed bread."

So Susie wrapped a stick up in a dried leaf.

"The leaf is wrapping paper and the stick is bread," she told Uncle Wiggly. "Make-believe, of course."

"Oh, of course. I know it's only make-believe," laughed the bunny. "I won't try to eat this bread."

"Now, you need buy something off me," said Lulu Whitey, the duck.

"So Uncle Wiggly bought some sugar from the duck. And, of course, he didn't eat it, but he kept it in his pocket."

"Then the bunny rabbit gentleman bought some pretend groceries from the other animal children, and he had lots of his playthings with them, until, at once, the school bell rang and the boys and girls had to run, hop or fly along, or they'd be late."

"Goodbye, Uncle Wiggly," they cried. "You can keep store until we come back!"

So the bunny sat down on a log near the flat stump, which still had on it lots of the make-believe grocery things.

And, as the sun was very warm, all of a sudden Mr. Longears fell asleep.

He was suddenly awakened by hearing some one walking on the dried leaves near him, and, opening his eyes, Uncle Wiggly saw the head old Skunk-demon.

"Well, I have caught you, I see," said the Skunk-demon, which is like a Tipisewah, only worse.

"What are you going to do to me?" asked Uncle Wiggly, apprehensive like.

"Take you off to my den," answered the Skunk-demon. "Once I have you there—well, I'll see, then, what I'll do to you."

"What are you going to do to me?" asked Uncle Wiggly, apprehensive like.

TEAMSTERS OF CITY TO GET RAISE

Commissioner of Streets P. F. Jackson, the surplus funds of whose department are now paying the increased salaries of the police and firemen of the city under the new charter amendment, today enacted the role of "life-saver."

"The Building Trades Council, representing before the City Council, threatened to pull all teamsters in the city out on strike, together with all affiliated Building Trades Council crafts, unless, by March 10, city teamsters receive the union scale in wages."

The Civil Service Board has had this matter before it since September, and has deferred action on the ground that there is no money in the budget for the raise. When the strike threat was raised Jackson announced that the street funds are still intact save for the $10,000 turned over to the department of public health and fire for police raises, and that he will be able to transfer enough money to take care of the teamsters' raise. He will file an ordinance tomorrow providing for a transfer and for a wage increase.

Perry Burlingame, president of the Building Trades Council, filed the ultimatum with the council. He said that the Building Trades Council had decided upon reaching an adjustment with the civil service board, that the union wage was $4.50 for a two-horse teamster and $5 daily for a four-horse teamster, for an eight-hour day. He said that the city is paying $4 and $4.50 or 50 cents less than the scale, and that William Blair, superintendent of teamsters, works the men more than eight hours and often on Sundays at no overtime compensation.

"It was never the intention of the city to work a man more than eight hours," said Commissioner W. H. Edwards.

"I think," said Commissioner Fred Seaberg, "that the civil service board's idea was that the other people asking raises will demand them if the teamsters get them."

"As a matter of fact," said Burlingame, "the teamsters are the only craft working for the city not getting the scale, so that argument will not apply."

The pay raises will total several hundred dollars monthly, according to the street and public works department. The civil service board recently announced that the scale would be granted the men the next fiscal year. Thus the Building Trades Council refused to accept.

Theater Party All Their Own for Newsboys Tonight

What "Noodles" Fagan knows about life and especially the life of the street after press time he is going to tell to a great throng of Oakland newsboys, who, under THE TRIBUNE'S auspices, attend Parties theater this evening. All the arrangements have been completed. "Noodles," most famous of all newsboys, has polished up his very best speech. Little Mary Fagan, his 7-year-old daughter, even has a speech of her own that she is going to make to the boys. Mary is almost as popular with audiences as she is with her dad—as she will be with the newsboys.

Mary is also going to sing and Mrs. Fagan will assist her talented husband and daughter. It's going to be a Fagan night to some degree, and a newsboy's night right through.

"Noodles" Fagan has one of the biggest lists of acquaintances in America. Every year he chats with something like 3000 newsboys, and he makes each one his friend. That means, if you're good at arithmetic, that you can figure out 30,000 newsboy friends in ten years for this kind of them all.

Not only tonight, but tomorrow night, too, for fear some cannot get there this evening.

CLEMENCY IS GRANTED IN SPY ACT CASES

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Among the fifty-three cases of convictions under the espionage act in which President Wilson has granted clemency is that of Frederick Kraft of Newark, secretary of the Socialist party in New Jersey. He was granted a full pardon.

No action was taken in the cases of J. F. Rutherford and his seven associates of the International Public Students' Association, convicted in Brooklyn on charges growing out of publication of "The Finished Mystery," a Bible handbook, and now serving sentences in the Atlanta federal prison.

The sentences of Ames Linden Hitchcock, former Socialist member of the school board of Cleveland, Ohio, was commuted from ten to two years. Other cases acted on were those of Robert Goldstein, convicted in the federal court of Southern California for promoting a moving picture purporting to show massacres by Turkish soldiers in the Armenian revolution, and alleged to have been financed by pro-German interests; sentence commuted to three years with reversion of fines.

Ethel I. Foreman, a school teacher, convicted in the federal court of Northern Texas on a charge of advising soldiers in letters to shoot their officers; sentence commuted to two years.

Otto Janson, general manager of the Janson Iron Works, 6405 San Pablo, will have to serve only two years of the five-year sentence imposed last May as punishment for violation of the espionage law. Janson was convicted before Federal Judge Dooling on May 3 and sentenced to five years' imprisonment in McNeil island penitentiary. He pleaded guilty to making seditious remarks, including those to the effect that the President should be shot and that it was too bad that more soldiers had not been drowned when the Lusitania was torpedoed.

Others who were extended clemency were: Joseph E. Hamberg, northern California, April 11; Reinhold Frank Labmann, southern California, April 1; Carl de Schell, southern California, one year and one day; Arrie von Harder, southern California, three years; George H. Hogan, southern California, one year and one day; L. Lugenda, southern California, April 1; John O'Connell, northern California, two years.

Hamberg and O'Connell are serving sentences on McNeil island for violations of the espionage act from Sacramento in connection with a series of trials there after the bombing of the governor's mansion.

Goldstein's petition on appeal will be heard by the United States circuit court of appeals here tomorrow.

Fraud Not Found in Land Exchange

Judgment for the defendant was given today by Judge Everett J. Brown in the suit of John A. P. Weiler and wife against W. F. and P. A. Toms for cancellation of an exchange of land at Newark for a ranch in Contra Costa county. The plaintiffs claimed that the Contra Costa ranch was misrepresented as to its value. The land at Newark comprised 160 acres. The Contra Costa ranch was of equal size. The latter was encumbered by a $6000 mortgage. The mortgage was assumed and a note for $3000 given in addition to the Newark place. The court held that there had been no fraudulent misrepresentation.

"Defense Bulletin's" Editor Is Released

Edward Moffitt, editor of the alleged "L. W. W. organ," "The Defense Bulletin," published in Oakland, who was arrested in a raid Thursday night on L. W. W. headquarters, 1132 Mission street, San Francisco, was dismissed by Police Judge Oppenheim in that city this morning.

Judge Oppenheim said: "I would rather err on the side of leniency than be too severe. In any event a newspaper editor is not a vagrant. Moffitt had been charged with vagrancy."

Free Licenses for Veterans Proposed

The bond of the Value Construction Co. filed to insure a $150,000 worth of improvements on the lake on the western waterfront, was turned back to the company by the city council today, on evidence that the work had been completed. City Attorney H. L. Hogan approved this action as legal.

Commissioner W. H. Edwards filed a recommendation to give all veterans of the present war free business licenses, on are given Spanish-American and Civil War veterans. This was referred to the city attorney.

LABOR NOTES

William A. Spooner, secretary of the Central Labor Council, has been instructed by the organization to secure a full statement of facts regarding the industrial situation in the East by district from the officials of the Iron Trades Council of San Francisco, with which a number of local unions are affiliated, and from the recently organized Metal Trades Council of Alameda and Contra Costa counties. He will submit a report on the matter to the meeting of the council next Monday night.

Delegate Bowsher, one of the vice-presidents of the Street Cleaners' International, spoke at the meeting of the council Monday night on street and general labor conditions in Los Angeles and other cities of the southern part of the state. He reported excellent progress and aggressive work by Special Organizer Jule of the State Federation of Labor in the cities of the south. He especially commended Babe's activities in organizing the draftsmen, municipal house, locomotive, and handcar of trunks and vegetable.

The local Shipyard Laborers' Union at its special meeting last night adopted a report in favor of the scale of wages for members of the organization which was drawn up last July, but held in abeyance during pending of arbitration proceedings. The scale calls for $2.50 a day for laborers, $3 for helpers, and $4 for foremen. It is the purpose of the union to secure this scale, if possible, after the expiration of the Mary schedule on March 21.

The union has also voted to give unemployed members $5 a week in addition to the $1 strike benefits they are receiving. This donation applies especially to the men who are standing for the 44-hour week proposition in the shipyards and outside shops of the Eastbay district.

A jury in Superior Judge Duggan's court in San Francisco yesterday found John A. Ehrlich, former secretary of the International Brotherhood of Iron Shipbuilders, and helpers of American, for guilty of obscuring $72 of the organization's funds. It was alleged at the time of the arrest that the total shortage amounted to $1000. The alleged embezzlement occurred in February, 1918.

WOMAN HELD IN POOR HERO SWINDLE CASE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—Miss Ada L. Turrell of Mill Valley was taken into custody today by Detective Tom Furman and Operative Fisher of the army intelligence bureau and will be charged with a conspiracy to obtain money under false pretenses following the confession of Clyde L. Tull.

Tull, who operated both here and in Oakland, posed as a discharged and penniless veteran of 18 months' service as a volunteer on the French front, where he had lost his right leg. He obtained sums of money from various sympathetic persons and three Red Cross, following the publication of a story that he had been lying on cheese and crackers for days, due to his poverty. In his confession Tull said:

"Miss Turrell procured the three gold service stripes and two wound stripes and sewed them on my coat and suggested the story in the paper. She collected $22 at the ferry post-office in which she gave me $100."

Miss Turrell developed no sympathy and believed his story of service in France. Tull lost his limb as a ranch hand in Nogales, Arizona, following his discharge from the army for permanent disability in 1914.

TWO CHILDREN SLAIN IN SOUTH

LOS ANGELES, March 5.—Believed by the police to have been slain in revenge for a crime, the bodies of Pedro Martinez, aged 9, and his tiny playmate, Jose Garcia, aged 5, were found here today in a room which, according to a police report, had been occupied a short time before by Tomas Gringo. Each child had been shot through the head.

Oranico, a friend of Mrs. Manuella Martinez, mother of the older boy, was taken into custody by the police two hours after the slaying in another part of the city. While no charge was placed against him, he is being held and questioned regarding his knowledge of the slaying.

Mrs. Manuella Martinez told the police she left the children at home this morning while she called on a neighbor. Some time later, she said, the revolver shots were heard.

A search was made with the result that the lifeless bodies were found in Oranico's room. A pistol with two exploded cartridges lay upon the dresser.

Co-Eds Win Honors in Scholarship

BERKELEY, March 5.—Leading male students almost three to one, won honors at the University of California in the annual scholarship contest. The contest was held at the State University in the Phi Beta Kappa, the national honor society of American universities.

Announcement of the election of 11 members of the Phi Beta Kappa to the campus, was made this morning on the campus. Five juniors are named on the list, while the remaining number of students is made up of seniors.

Following are the students winning scholarship honors:

From the Senior Class—Isabel Anderson, Marjorie Bonner, Dwight Lardner, Benson Lamm, Gladys Campbell, Ruth Carnichael, Emily Carver, John Cook, Sarah d'Amico, Catherine Decker, James Egan, Herbert Egan, Mary Egan, Virginia Holmes, William Hocking, Herbert Hubbard, Joseph Lester, Louise Harby, Lella Lecher, Helen Moreland, Jacob Posner, Otto Jovell, Frank Schuch, Richard Smith, Josephine Smith, Melville Spedie, Carolyn Steel, Sarah Tuna, Dorothy Tren, Helen Walker, Nancy Yerkes.

Assembly Balks at Nations' League Safeguard U. S. Traditions, Is Plea

SACRAMENTO, March 5.—The Assembly last night, by a vote of 61 to 14, substituted for the Windmill resolution endorsing the constitution proposed for a league of nations, a resolution endorsing "the idea of a coalition of nations provided it shall not involve a sacrifice of American traditions, institutions and independence."

Two of the thirteen Democratic assemblymen voted for the substitute with the remaining eleven Democrats against it.

The resolution was referred for engrossment, delaying final action probably until Thursday.

GRAY SPEAKS FOR HALF HOUR

Assemblyman Gray, Republican, leading the movement to substitute, said before the United States takes the first step it should decide whether it is willing to follow the proposed league through to "one of the two developments which must inevitably follow—final disintegration of the league or its usurpation of many important functions of its individual members."

After Gray had spoken for a half hour, Assemblyman Al. B. Brown, Democrat, asked if "the gentleman from Alameda is attempting to conduct a filibuster?"

"This amendment means nothing," Assemblyman Struther, Democrat, said. "If we adopt it we will show to the world we haven't enough backbone to place ourselves definitely on record." He added it was quite evident Gray was against any league of nations, and said he wished other members would be as frank.

STEEL TRUST INFLUENCE HINT

Early in the debate Assemblyman William, Democrat, said the steel trust opposed disarmament and its "long arm had extended to California."

Assemblyman Graves, Republican, asked him if he meant to reflect upon President Wilson's advocacy of a great war.

Assemblyman Ekwander, Republican, said it was uncertain what effect the membership of the United States in the proposed league would have upon American labor standards and the right to maintain the tariff, saying there was apparently an "ulterior motive" behind the movement to endorse the proposed league constitution.

Assemblyman Morris said notification of the Monroe doctrine might result from the United States subscribing to the proposed covenant.

Assemblyman Johnston pleaded for a continuation of the policy inaugurated by Washington to avoid embarrassing alliances.

PARTY LINES BROKEN

The Republicans who voted against the amendment were Johnston, Carter and Morrison. The Democrats who voted for it were Polley and D. W. Hill.

A resolution endorsing the league covenant, introduced in the Senate by Senators Slater and Thompson, Democrats, and Harris and W. J. Carr, Republicans, is expected to come up for discussion Thursday in committee.

the daily attendance basis of state school money apportionment so schools would not lose because attendance was reduced by the influenza epidemic.

CONVICTS EARNING SYSTEM

Senator Brown introduced a bill which would enable prison directors to establish an earning system for convicts. The measure would provide that a certain percentage of a convict's earnings would be deducted for upkeep and the remainder distributed between a fund to be paid him upon release and for the maintenance of members of his family. It carries an appropriation of $100,000.

The Assembly education committee recommended passage of Assemblyman Polley's bill to give credit in schools for garden work in line with the movement started during the war. The bill would create the office of state pre-vocational director, to have charge of the work.

SCHOOL HEALTH EXERCISE

The Senate and Assembly education committees will hold a joint hearing tonight on bills providing for the cooperative purchase of school supplies and part time compulsory vocational education.

A conference of stockmen and others will be held here Monday with United States biological survey representatives to discuss the question of having a payment of $50,000 made for the destruction of coyotes.

$1000 for Unused

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—A verdict of $1000, the full amount sued for, was given Mrs. Della Keating by a jury in Superior Judge John Hunt's court today against Mrs. Schulte, Hongkong banker, and his wife, Mrs. Helen Schulte. The judgment was for services rendered by Mrs. Keating in obtaining evidence against her husband, which an action for divorce was later filed by his wife and then dismissed two days later.

The dismissal of the divorce action last November was said to have been the result of a payment of $50,000 made Mrs. Schulte by her husband and which she admitted having received. Mrs. Schulte was the principal witness for the defense, testifying that while Mrs. Keating was intoxicated and desperate she had forced a promise to pay the $1000 with a loaded revolver.

IRVING TO AGAIN SEEK MAYORALTY

TRIBUTE BUREAU

011 SHATTUCK AVE. BERKELEY, March 5.—Setting to rest rumors that he would withdraw from politics and devote himself to his private business, Mayor Samuel O. Irving this morning filed his nomination papers, seeking election to the mayoralty for the third time.

Today, the last day for filing nomination papers, also brought to the city clerk's office petitions qualifying Wells Drury, secretary of the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce, for the same race. Louis Bartlett, the third candidate for the mayoralty, qualified yesterday.

Up to noon today no new candidates had made their appearance for two vacancies on the school board in addition to Mrs. Carrie Gibbs and Dr. W. W. Kemp, incumbents.

Carl Bartlett, Thomas Dowd and John T. Davis, candidates for the council vacancies, have announced that they will campaign merely for the long-term and will not file petitions for the short term necessary under the city charter where vacancies have been filled on the official body. Councilman George I. Baxter and C. J. Boynton have filed their petitions for both terms.

Thus far no candidates have made their appearance for the office of auditor, the incumbent, Elmer Howell, as yet not filing his petition. As the time for the filing of petitions expires tonight, a last-minute rush of candidates is expected by City Clerk A. G. Briggs. Today is also the last day on which voters may register for the primaries on April 2.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan

"The Red Blood Builder"

Pepto-Mangan is no mere temporary tonic, but a genuine reconstructive which builds blood from its foundations, the red cells. It increases their number and capacity to carry oxygen—so vital to health—through your whole system, charging it with renewed health, vigor and purpose. Your color improves, your appetite increases. Gude's Pepto-Mangan is easy to digest, exceedingly pleasant to taste. Universally prescribed by the medical profession.

FRIENDLY WARNING: There is only one Pepto-Mangan and that is Gude's. Beware of cheap imitations. Solid by druggists everywhere.

Pepto-Mangan is made only by M. J. BREITENBACH COMPANY Manufacturing Chemists, New York

DAWN FINDS MARDI GRAS REVELS IN FULL SWING

WONDERFUL GOWNS ARE WORN BY "COURT"

Many Cleverly Designed and Beautiful Costumes Intermingle in Riot of Color as Merrymakers Join in Festivities of Dance; Queen and Court Win Praises

THE Mardi Gras, Oakland's top last night — and through the night to this morning — with such a bang as must reverberate for many a moon in the ears of those who heard it. It was not until dawn this morning had for hours been across the hills that those ears found the pillow. The night had not ending, it just simply went on and on.

So many were the elements of the success of the Mardi Gras that a full list of them is a catalogue of intolerable length. Porter Garnett's pageant will live long in the memory as a finely conceived art form. But with it tied for first place the colors, the lights, the gowns, above all the effervescent spirit of hilarity that justified every letter in the "Hall of Bubbles" name.

When a bit after ten o'clock the heralds proclaimed the approach of his majesty, King Cheero, and of the queen, the last grip on the ten of decorum was loosed and merriment ruled from that moment on. The gowns of Queen Bead and her "jewel" attendants were amazingly beautiful. Radiant all white and crystal. Mrs. Charles Clark Keeney reigned over her court of suddled with silver sequins and joy. Her gown was of metal cloth rhinestones, with a court train of lace. Completing the costume was a diamond necklace and tarts, silver slippers, the heels studded with rhinestones and buckles made up the exquisite costume.

The jewels were as follows: Mrs. Percy Walker—"Diamonds." Bodice of green satin with stripes of sequins, forming a mirror. Draped Georgette skirt with panels of sequins, jeweled headpiece, band of sequins with tulle feathers. Sapphire earrings, slippers studded with sapphires. Mrs. Joseph Carlson—"Amethyst." Amethyst chiffon gown. Indescent trimmings. Strand of amethyst beads hanging from shoulders. Headpiece, jeweled band with bird of Paradise. Mrs. Walter de Martini—"Fancy." Costume of cloth of gold and flame colored silk. George Wilhelm—English riding. Mrs. William Thornton White—"Gold."

ARTISTS' BALL IS GREAT SUCCESS

Hundreds of Merrymakers Join in Fun Lasting From 9 P.M. Till Early Breakfast; Pageant Brilliant Affair

By LAURA BRIDE POWERS.

WHEN the sun incardinated the east this morning, "Moonlight Bay" was rolling from the tongues of hundreds of revelers at their hair and egg—poets, painters, jurists, college professors, glorious women, fresh even in the crude light of a sweet spring morning.

What if the busy wants of trade were already calling the slaves of commerce? Oakland was putting the finishing touches upon her first Mardi Gras, and the Dance of the Fairs through the breakfast hall in the Hotel Oakland was its glad climax.

SPRIT AND COLOR.

At last the ghost has been laid that Oakland is without temperance. Last night's story of spirit and color and camaraderie has given the lie to the ancient calumny.

"But see how San Francisco helped," whispers the incorrigible San Francisco in my ears—which fact, incidentally, must be conceded, for at every third table at supper were guests from across the blue water.

The pageant of Porter Garnett, inclusive of its setting, will live in the memories of two thousand men and women as the most dramatically conceived and executed art form ever put over, not only in Oakland

Federal Employment Service Is Opposed

California manufacturers are overwhelmingly opposed to the continuance of the United States employment service to June 30, 1920, through the appropriation of $14,000,000 for that purpose, according to responses to a referendum sent out by Fred Beagle Jr., secretary of the California Manufacturers' Association, to factory heads in all parts of the state. More than 200 replies have been received. It is said that the United States Department of Labor is asking that the sum referred to be appropriated to carry on the work for more than a

City Registration Is Unusually Heavy

Registration Deputy Joe Wagner reported today that registration for the city election is unusually heavy. The registration will close on March 15.

DR. KERGAN RETURNS

Dr. W. F. Kergan, youngest son of Dr. J. F. Kergan, has returned to Oakland, having been mustered out at Camp Kearny. Young Kergan enlisted in the medical corps shortly after the United States declared war against Germany.

'AD' IS SMUGGLED ON ISLAM TEMPLE

The savant's soul in the bosom of Dr. William Popper, head of the department of Semitic languages at the University of California, is shocked beyond compare by the poor translation of Arabic that appears in a part of the frieze above the door of Islam Temple, San Francisco. And the souls of those Shriner are equally shocked, but by what the Arabic says, not how it says it.

What it says, according to Dr. Popper, is "Allah, architect" and "Brown, assistant," which does not in the least attune with "Great is Allah" on the other flank of the frieze or with the Arabic for "Peace to all who enter" at the topmost of the frieze.

The "Allah" the frieze arabically mentions, may be T. Patterson Ross, who designed the building and whose request to engrave his signature in the facade of the structure was refused by the Shrine directors. Now, they admit, Ross' bill is paid and whatever he may have written in mystic symbols into the frieze is beyond correction except by removal of most of the front of the building. Dr. Popper tells what it is Ross seems to have written there:

"The inscriptions at the left as you enter from the most perfect pieces of work in the Arabic I have ever seen used in architecture. They must have been copied from a photograph of some building in the Orient. But the inscription opposite is in very poor Arabic. I was at some loss to decipher it, because whoever translated English words into Arabic had a very poor idea of the relation of the two languages. I can make out, however, the words 'Allah, architect,' and 'Brown, assistant.' I believe. There is always some uncertainty, as the Arabic language has no vowels and we have to supply those by a sort of phonetic approximation. In the frieze above the door I make out, rather poorly done, the phrase: 'Peace to all who enter.'"

Course in Banking at Technical High

A course in banking is being organized in the Oakland Technical Continuation high school. Forty-second street and Broadway. The class will meet on Monday and Wednesday evenings at 8 o'clock. In room 207. H. E. Cox, who was for three years state bank examiner for this district, is the instructor in charge. Classes in civil service preparation also are being conducted in the school. The class is planned to meet the needs of students desiring to take any civil service examination. Classes are small, making possible a great deal of individual instruction. The average student taking the course for four months will be able to pass the first-class clerical or stenographic, or the second-class clerical postoffice examination.

YOUTH ARRESTED UNDER THE WATER

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—The catch him if it takes me to the depth of the sea," Policeman Arthur J. Dolan may have declared for his chase and arrest of Jack Harkin, 15 years of age, did take him to the depths of the sea yesterday afternoon. Policeman Dolan followed the youth to the bath, where the boy was swimming.

Dolan commanded the boy to come out and submit to arrest. The boy refused.

"I'll wait for you till you have to come out," announced Dolan.

"You'll have a long wait, if you do," retorted the one whom the law would clutch.

Dolan disappeared. Fifteen minutes later at the bottom of Surtro baths the youth was caught and brought to the surface—under arrest.

When taken to the Park police station, Larkin turned over $45 of unpaid money to the desk sergeant.

He was arrested on a charge of having stolen $50 from the till of the Majestic Meat Market, 793 Arguello boulevard, while the proprietor, Mike Belmont, was in a back room.

News of the Churches

ST. PAUL'S EPISCOPAL.
The monthly meeting of the Guild of St. Paul's church, at Grand avenue and Broadway, will be held Friday at 2:30 o'clock in the parish house. Miss Ethel Moore will speak on "The Work of the Girls' Division of the War Camp Community Service." Another speaker will represent the Y. W. C. A.

At these monthly meetings distinguished speakers are always on the program and are heard with interest.

CYMRIC SOCIETY.
The Cymric society is the literary and musical society organized a year ago in connection with the work of the Welsh Presbyterian church. At its regular meetings tomorrow evening officers will be elected for the coming year. George C. Davis, manager of the Oakland Labor Temple Association, will speak, and Mrs. J. B. Stotes, of the parlors, who delighted the audience last Sunday evening, will by special request, sing again on this evening.

The ministry of Rev. O. R. Williams is proving so popular that the present building will not accommodate the crowds, and a new location is to be announced soon.

COUNTY C. E. CONVENTION.
The Alameda County Christian Endeavor Union will hold its 32d annual convention, Friday, Saturday and Sunday in the First Congregational church of Oakland. At the first session, Friday evening, the new county officers will be installed. Rev. J. B. Stotes, pastor of the First Congregational church of San Francisco, will speak, and Rev. Otto Frommenger will sing.

The attendance broke all records last year and a new goal for 1500 registered delegates has been set for this year.

UNION MEETING TODAY.
The first of the union Lenten services is to be held at the Marlborough theater today noon under the direction of the president of the Oakland Ministerial Union, Rev. Francis J. van Horn. A similar meeting is to be held every Wednesday noon till Easter.

BIRD-MAN AT PLYMOUTH.
Charles Rowman Hutchins, the famous bird-man, who has delighted so many Oakland audiences, will be the chief attraction at a special free entertainment at Plymouth Center, Piedmont and Yosemite avenues, Friday evening. Plymouth has been a charming, wholesome and instructive entertainment on Friday evenings, but it probably has never had anything more enjoyable than this unique entertainment to be furnished by America's foremost whistler, who can imitate the song of every known bird.

Capwell Employees Hold Party Tonight
The annual theater party of Capwell's employees will take place at the Fulton theater tonight, when nearly 500 of those who keep the crowds moving at the big store will hold their annual revel and listen to "Romance," as played by Jane Urban and the Maude Fulton players. It is the big event of the year for the other workers at the store.

CHARGES WIFE AND 10 CHILDREN WITH CRUELTY

Timothy Moriarity is suing not only for divorce from his wife, but also for freedom from ten children, whom he accuses of cruelty toward him. He does not ask for custody of the children but leaves the matter to the discretion of the court. He charges that his wife, Catherine Moriarity, influenced the children to manifest hostility toward him, and that on several occasions he received bodily injuries as the result of beatings they administered. On the slightest provocation, he says, his wife would flare up into a mental rage and attack him with shoes, chairs, dishes, pots, pans, or whatever she could find loose. The couple were married in 1898, in Berkeley.

AIR PILOT GIVES TALK.
SAN JOSE, March 5.—Lieutenant D. A. Di Fiore, son of a prominent banker of this district, has just returned from eighteen months' service as a pilot with an air squadron in France. He addressed the children of the Berryessa school.

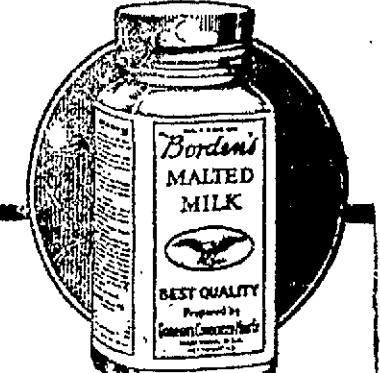

THREE ARE HELD IN MURDER CASE

Mrs. Yelka Bradovich, Sam Bradovich and Yunka Ponish today were held to answer to the county Superior Court on a charge of complicity in the murder of Vladimir Dugandzaya.

Dugandzaya was found dead in the back yard of the Bradovich home, February 11, following an all-night wedding anniversary celebration. He had been shot twice.

Match, cousin of the dead man, told how he, with Bradovich and Ponish, were drinking wine throughout the night at the Bradovich boarding house, and of the ten-dollar wine bill that started the quarrel, on the night of February 10. Match told of the gunplay, in which several times guns were flashed, and concluded with the statement that he saw the woman fire the gun that killed his cousin, and then drag the body into the garden.

Mrs. Bradovich said that the murdered man had made improper advances to her. Match denied this.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 5, 1919.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR FAILURE.

President Wilson's statement yesterday that a group of men in the Senate had deliberately chosen to embarrass the administration of the government is partly true. A group of senators deliberately worked for the defeat of important legislative projects the administration was interested in. Whether their motive was to embarrass the administration of the government cannot be stated with finality, but President Wilson unquestionably wished the country to believe he was justified in charging this motive.

But the group of senators that obstructed the legislative program was a very small one—composed of three men. They did not have the support of their party colleagues and acted as individuals. Their effort was expected, because warning that it was impending had been given.

Such embarrassment as the government may find itself in as a result of the failure of Congress to enact certain measures cannot, however, be laid to these three "filibusters." The administration of President Wilson must assume and answer for the responsibility for the failure and answer for its harmful effects upon the country.

When the third session of the Sixty-fifth Congress convened last December, the President, his cabinet, the administration leaders in Congress, every citizen, knew the exact minute the Sixty-fifth Congress would adjourn. It would end at exactly 12 o'clock, noon, March 4, 1919. Its terminations had been fixed automatically—by the Constitution.

Consequently the administration should have acted more quickly than it did. It should have speeded up its work so as to allow time to strangle a filibustering effort. This gentle deed can be performed in seventy-two hours in accordance with the prescription adopted by the Senate in 1917. It was wholly within the power of the administration to expedite the legislative program. It enjoyed a majority in both houses of Congress.

But no effort was made to finish the program on time. Instead, there was much unexplained and inexplicable delay. Secretary Daniels did not submit his estimates of the naval appropriation until the middle of the session; Secretary Baker was later in submitting the War Department estimates. Secretary of the Treasury Glass did not ask for the necessary authority to float a $7,000,000,000 "victory loan" until two weeks before the end of the session. Director-General of Railways Elmes did not ask for a $750,000,000 appropriation for the railroad administration until the session was nearly ended.

The maladministration for the army court-martial system was not disclosed voluntarily by the Secretary of War and Congress had to go on an expedition of discovery. This consumed precious time. The proposition to make good the guarantee of the price of 1919 wheat was not taken up until the last minute. And to accentuate these delays, the President cabled from his headquarters in France a request for a $100,000,000 appropriation to buy food for the starving peoples of Europe, which consumed the almost undivided attention of Congress for ten days.

In addition to the dilatory tactics of the government, the committees of Congress, which were presided over by administration lieutenants, did not function as quickly as they might have. With the delay in getting started, the introduction of new projects in the closing day of the session, the administration played into the hands of the willful obstructionists.

Bad management was the fundamental cause of the failures of the third session of the Congress. It fell to the President, who was away from the capital for seventy-eight days of the session, to try to place the responsibility upon any other shoulders than those of the leaders of his administration.

The responsibility is not trifling. The measures that failed of passage include all the reconstruction legislation, among them the general railroad legislation and bills defining a shipping policy and dealing with unemployment, labor and literacy problems; the oil, gas and coal land leasing and water power development bills; the woman suffrage resolution; legislation to enforce war-time prohibition; resolutions to terminate government control of telegraph, telephone and other wire utilities December 31; and Secretary Lane's bill appropriating $100,000,000 for reclamation of waste lands to be allotted to soldiers and sailors.

MUCH GOOD WORK.

Notwithstanding its last hour failures, the Sixty-fifth Congress will be recorded as the most important in the history of the nation. It was the "war Congress," and it performed unprecedented acts. The declaration of war, the selective draft law, the espionage act, the four Liberty Loans, the war shipbuilding program, the food control act, the federal control of the railroads and other public utilities, the great military and naval administration acts—all these are recorded to the credit of the Congress.

The Congress worked without political thought of itself. Republicans and Democrats cooperated with commendable unanimity on every question concerning the safety of the nation. And it fell to the fortunes of the Republican minority of both houses to render the most efficacious aid to the President in obtaining the necessary authority for prosecuting the war.

Much was done to deserve the gratitude of the country. A half dozen perverse individuals—a smaller proportion of failures in an hour of great need than afflicted the parliamentary body of any other belligerent country—will not deprive the Congress of its honor of having done everything asked of it and everything within its power to win a decisive victory over the nation's enemies.

THE SARDINE INDUSTRY.

That the sardine fishing and packing industry in California is attaining respectable proportions is shown by the record for 1918 as set forth in the statistical annual edition of the Western Canner and Packer. Throughout last year there was a steady development of the sardine packing industry, which, according to the trade organ, corresponded closely with the growth of the industry during 1917, when there was recorded an output of 1,500,000 cases. The production in 1918 was approximately 2,000,000 cases.

Sardines are now being canned in factories at Santa Cruz, Seabright, Twin Lakes, Monterey, Hueneine, Redondo, Wilmington, San Pedro, Long Beach, Newport Beach and San Diego. The three great canning districts are Monterey Bay, San Pedro Bay and San Diego Bay. Output of the canneries of the Monterey district for 1918 was approximately 600,000 cases, of those of San Pedro Bay from 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 cases, and of San Diego 200,000 to 500,000 cases.

The Western Canner and Packer goes on to explain that the word "approximately" has only a relative significance in connection with the sardine pack of California. It might mean "minimum," "considerably more than" and "conjectures are still permissible." Most decidedly it is a conservative word. It keeps the facts in cold storage.

Maine sardine packers have been much longer in the game than the Californians, but it is evident that they have a great deal to learn from the latter. While the Maine packers were lamenting over the poor catches of sardines all last year, they finally admitted that their pack was "just" 2,500,000 cases, "or about normal," which, translated into truthful language, means that it was the largest pack they ever had. Southern California packers appear to be satisfied to yield the pennant to their Maine competitors as far as size of pack is concerned. It had been expected that the California pack of 1918 would exceed the Maine pack, but this distinction evidently will have to be foregone.

However, it is hard to see how Maine is going to hold her lead as a sardine canning State from now on. Preparations are being made all along the California coast from Santa Cruz to San Diego to increase the sardine pack. It would not be at all surprising to see the Monterey Bay pack pass the 1,000,000-case mark in 1919, the San Pedro Bay pack reach the 2,000,000-case mark and the San Diego pack increased to 500,000 cases.

Of course, the great question is: "Where is the pack to be marketed?" The answer must be: "All over the United States and most of the foreign countries." With vegetable oils available at greatly reduced prices, increased steamship transportation facilities, reduced freight rates by rail and sea, the ability of the sardine-packing industry of California to compete in the markets of the whole world will be brought more fully into play.

The sardine packers look upon the future with much confidence. The day is not far distant, they believe, when a "sardine fleet" will be attached to the California canning industry to carry the canned sardines to the principal ports of the world, and olive orchards more extensive than those now planted in California will be required to supply oil for packing. In three years the industry has grown from a 260,000-case to a 2,000,000-case pack per year. Indications are that the rate of growth will be fully maintained during the coming year.

As a guest of honor at the capital of the United States the league of nations certainly received a lot of rough treatment. About the only thing it has escaped is having the suffrage pickets burn it in effigy.

NOTES and COMMENT

In one of those 20-years-ago summaries we read about eggs being 12 cents a dozen. And probably just as few were happy then as are of gladsome spirit now.

"Congress passes up prohibition penalties." This simply means that it failed to pass specific laws to enforce wartime prohibition, which go into effect July 1, and which themselves contain provisions for their enforcement. Since national prohibition becomes effective in the following February it seems to have been considered that the subject has been pretty well covered.

Interesting despatch from New York about a young woman taking two shots at William J. Burns. It stops short of just the particular that everybody would like to know—why she took the two shots.

Senator Newberry of Michigan is taking his seat without protest. Which scores one against Ford. If he fails of getting comfort from this Senate what can he expect from the new one which is not cast to his way of looking at it.

We are interested to read about the political methods of the Jarawa tribe of the Krus of Liberia. The king is an absolute monarch. He is elected and reigns for six years, and is then put to death. It is not so stark, but perhaps this is their way of enforcing the one-term rule.

Seattle's municipal election takes place today. It will be seen whether the city will stand by the mayor who recently attracted so much attention. If he is as popular at home as he seems to be everywhere else there will be nothing to it.

Malta, having tried the various uplift principles, has returned to the convention plan. Idaho has been patient and persistent about it, and she kept trying for ten years. California has four more years to go before she equals that record. Still, California has had an intensive experience. In such matters she has traveled a long way in a short time.

There is a despatch that is headed "Nations agreed on disposal of mineral lands." That is more than we have agreed on among ourselves as to our own. We ought to take a leaf from this and learn how.

We read in a despatch that "Japan will abolish Chinese opium trade." Suggesting an Oriental dominance which has long been expected, but which has not before been so broadly stated.

The German government has failed to make a point by conceding some of the contentions of the Soviets. Such failure generally results. When effort is made to win a controversy by force, yielding in any degree is construed as weakness, and the original demands are held to with the greater insistence.

How little we know and take account of the doings in the other Americas may be realized when we read of the inauguration of a new president of San Salvador. How many of us know that San Salvador had a new president, that his name is Carlos Mendez?

The President has beaten the record, which is always something, whatever may be concerned. In his address to the governors he uttered a sentence 171 words long. It stands unequalled in official oratory. If the governors of the two Carolinas were there they might appropriately have received that famous saying about it being a long time between.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS.

The supervisors of Imperial county are being urged to make repairs on a two-mile section of the road from Niland to the mud volcano in the Salton Sea. The attention of the directors was called to the fact that cretaceous ten autos visit that attraction every weekday and from 50 to 100 on Sunday—San Bernardino Index.

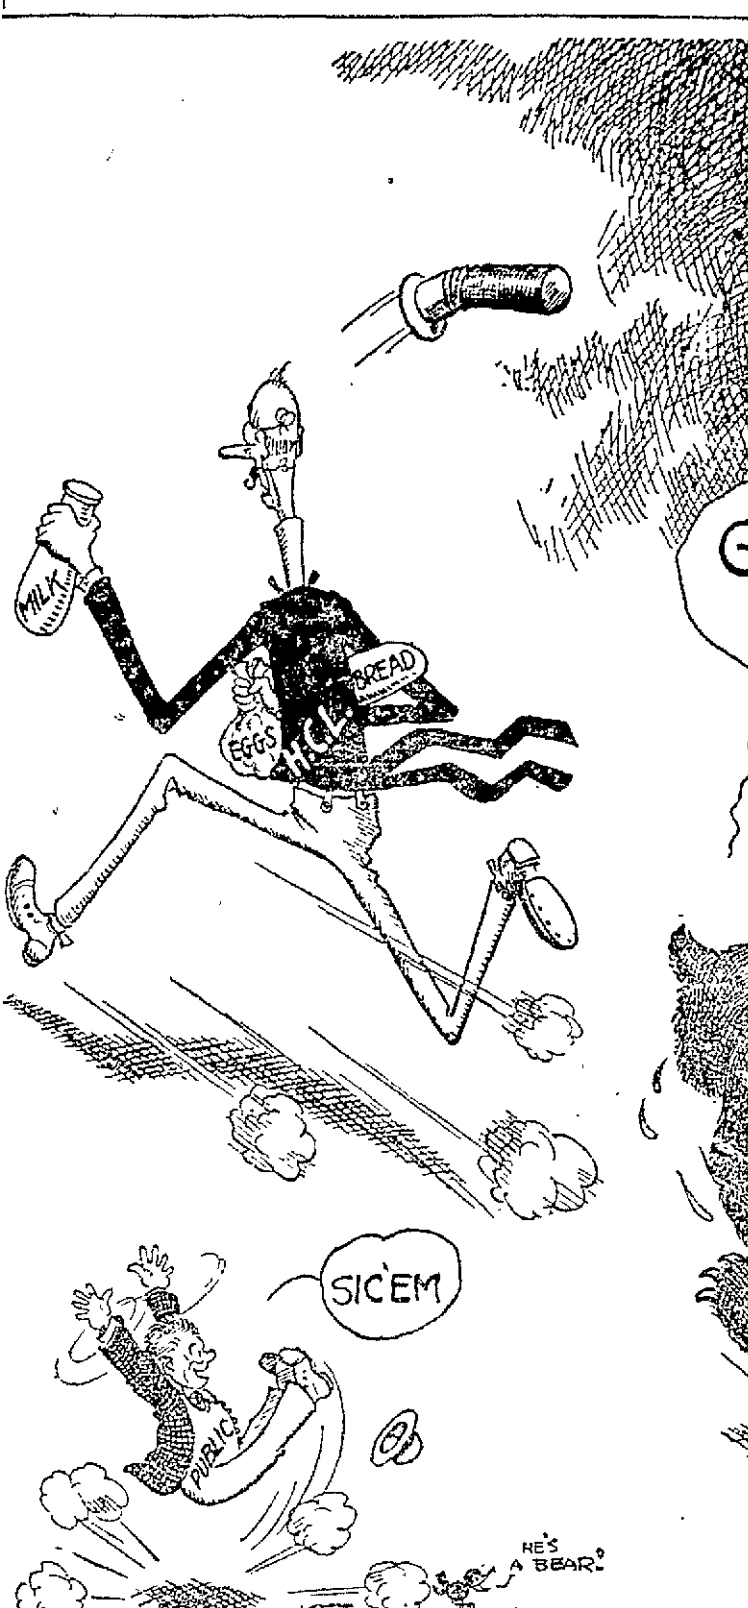

Alden Anderson, former Lieutenant Governor, left Sacramento Thursday for Washington to represent Governor Stephens at the conference of governors called by President Wilson to discuss unemployment conditions throughout the country. The conference will be held next Monday and Tuesday—Sacramento Union.

Gilroy is not going to erect any cold marble shafts to the memory of dead heroes. Instead, she will build a swimming pool for returned soldiers and sailors. Any chap who has been in the trenches will appreciate the form and intention of Gilroy's memorial. Even the dead would probably approve of it if they had a vote—Stockton Record.

Tuesday night promises to be a lively one. All the opponents of the Sunday closing law are to be on hand and so are the proponents of the measure. Senator Dennett of Modesto and C. E. Brooks of the assembly from Oakland are the sponsors. There has been sent from the southland an enormous petition against the measure and Los Angeles knows it—about Sunday closing. The city fathers of that chemically pure town had a Sunday closing law for a short time in operation and it had to be withdrawn—Sacramento Union.

The smallpox expert of the state board of health has been arrested for battery for vaccinating children when parents claim they had filed certificates of conscientious objection. Quite possibly he may be technically guilty. Under our foolish state law the efficacy of vaccination is a matter of opinion. We have never applied the same doctrine to smallpox itself. We treat the contagiousness of smallpox as a fact and we enforce quarantine as a isolation cure regardless of any opinions or "conscientiousness." The protective value of vaccination is quite as fixed a fact as is the contagious nature of smallpox—Fresno Republican.

RUMANIA—Pawn of Many Wars

Rumania, where disorders have been growing for the last two months, until they now are reported to have reached the point of a general insurrection, has been a center of European war storms for a thousand years, says a bulletin of the National Geographic Society, which shows how that country has fared in the past from wars among her neighbors.

"Peter the Great once established a protectorate over the Rumanians and Catherine the Great later advanced a plan for the annexation of their territory to Russia. Fearing that such territorial expansion might be a menace to her, Austria persuaded Catherine to abandon that plan.

"Rumania, approximately as we now know it, was formed from Moldavia and Wallachia in 1851. Previously these principalities had been under Turkish suzerainty, following Austria's protest against Russia's annexation by the powers, which accorded to the union of the principalities, following the Crimean war, Rumanians chose an army officer, Colonel Alexander Cuza, as their ruler. His title was Alexander John I, Prince of Rumania.

"When, seven years later, the element in power at Bucharest decided in a change of rulers there were few formalities. Invading the prince's bedroom by night, leaders of the group presented a certificate of abdication to be signed and then bundled him in a carriage and put him aboard an express for Paris.

"The Count of Flanders, brother to King Leopold of Belgium, was chosen by a provisional government. The powers, especially Austria (Carol), tested, and Prince Charles (Carol), who had been an officer in the Prussian army, was substituted. He set about freeing the country from the suzerainty of Turkey.

"When the Russo-Turkish storm clouds arose in 1875, Charles sought to have the powers guarantee the neutrality of Rumania. He failed. Then an agreement was reached with Russia. Cuza was to have free passage through Rumania, while Russia was to respect the rights and defend the integrity of Rumania.

"When the war between Rumania and Turkey broke out, Rumania promptly declared herself independent of Turkey. As the war went on Russia needed help badly and finally Rumania responded to repeated appeals. Under Prince Carol Rumanian and allied troops gained a decisive but costly victory before Plova. Rumanian freedom was recognized in the treaty of San Stefano, and it furthermore was stipulated that Rumania was to get the swampy country known as Dobruja, lying between the Danube, where it flows to the north, and the Black Sea. Russia was to have Bessarabia, territory claimed by Rumania, and, in part, occupied by her.

"Rumania, however, bitterly against exchange of the pictureless Bessarabia for the ugly Dobruja region. Russia threatened to disarm the Rumanian army and Prince Carol pluckily responded that his army might be destroyed but it never would be disarmed.

"The Russo-Turkish treaty of San Stefano was overturned by the congress of Berlin, but Russia's aim in the Bessarabia was not denied. Thus Rumania, after helping Russia in her plight, came out of the war with less than she had when she went in. Before Rumania was swept into the world maelstrom of 1914-1918 she was known as a land of unique beauty, not so much on account of scenery as because of her quaint villages, with white-washed cottages, their doors and window frames painted in bright colors, and the attractive type of Rumanian peasant women.

"The Rumanian peasant women are considered the fairest in the Balkans. They dress elaborately and show unusual individuality in their costumes of many colors. Men and women alike usually wear hats in the house, except when they eat. The late dowager queen, known as Carmen Sylva, put on the native dress in order to encourage this distinctive costume, particularly popular in the Rumanian uplands."

"Oh, say meat, then."

Since Detroit has gone dry the consumption of milk has increased 20 per cent and of butter milk about 50 per cent. When the United States goes bone-dry there's going to be a great boom in the dairy industry. The mild acid of buttermilk is said to allay the craving for alcohol.—Capper's Weekly.

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

Exercise Will Develop the Body and Insure Sound Sleep
BY DR. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG
A. B., M. A., M. D.
(Johns Hopkins University.)

A high chest is a great asset not only because it is necessary for health, but also because it adds to the straightness and poise of your bodily mechanisms. In order to cultivate a high chest—one that protrudes—the muscles must be strengthened and the short ligaments or cords must be stretched. The following exercise will help you to secure this result:

Stand erect with your arms behind your back; your fingers interlocked and the back of your hands touching, so that the palms face forward. This is your first position.

Your second position begins with your palms turning inward and downward, and finally outward. All this time your fingers are interlocked.

Now roll your shoulders and arms backward toward the spine, and slowly throw your head backward, and stretch your neck. Hold this position for a moment until you experience the wholesome effect of the stretching, and then revert slowly to the first position.

If you find it especially difficult the first few times you perform the exercise to hold the fingers in the interlocked position, you may secure good results if you twist a piece of cord around the fingers of each hand.

These movements and stretchings not only help to protect the chest forward, but also do much to help draw in the abdomen and strengthen those more or less unused muscles which are weary of idleness, and as a result have become weak and lazy.

When you throw your head backward be sure to thrust your chin upward as far as it will go, so that you don't subject your neck to too great a strain. Do the exercise on three counts, starting with the first position, and repeat it until you are tired.

Stand erect with your feet nearly together and hands on hips. Rise on your toes and bending your knees sink until your thighs and legs meet below the knees and you are sitting on your heels. You entire bodily weight now rests on your toes, and your trunk must be in an erect position. Hold this position a moment or two and then rise slowly. Repeat these movements ten times.

After these exercises take your customary respiratory exercises. But these shouldn't be confined to the chest; they should extend to the abdomen and ribs.

Breathe deeply with your abdominal muscles. Count ten for the act of drawing in the air, ten for holding it and ten for its release. The drawing of one breath, therefore, should take 30 counts.

Proceed by counting the same way with the next breathing exercise. Feel your ribs swelling out—as you feel your stomach come forward in the first of the series.

Finally, take your chest breathing on thirty counts, and feel your chest coming upward. It will not help make it easier for you to raise the arms upward as you breathe, for this action will give your lungs opportunity to expand. After this you will feel a wholesome weariness and a sound sleep will be almost inevitable.

NEW INQUIRY OF SEDITION IN BERKELEY

BERKELEY, March 5.—Wanted, explicit definition of "red flag." Sent answers to the Berkeley Board of Education.

Information upon this important subject is sought by the Berkeley school officials as a result of charges laid before that organization concerning alleged seditious remarks said to have been uttered by members of the Berkeley Socialist Local in the school board rooms on Alameda way in denunciation of the college city's recently adopted "red flag" ordinance.

"Just what is a red flag and what does it stand for," asked Mrs. Carrie Gibbs, member of the school board, at a meeting yesterday.

"I know about it is that it denotes danger whether at a street crossing or waved in front of a row," answered Dr. Roy L. Woolsey, president of the educational body.

"We had better get straight on our definitions before taking action," commented Director George Perkins Baxter, who is also commissioner of revenue and finance on the Berkeley city council.

Assistant Superintendent of Schools M. C. James presented the only definite views on the subject. "There should only be one flag—that enough for this country," he declared and submitted into silence during the remainder of the discussion.

The matter of the alleged flying of the Berkeley council for making the display of the red flag a misdemeanor

Red Tide Alarms Lloyd George Says Britain Must Save World

LONDON, March 5.—"The world is in a state of confusion. Russia has gone to pieces and is heading toward destruction. She is calling for food. Germany is also going to pieces. She is convulsed. No one knows what her end will be."

This declaration was made by Premier Lloyd George in a speech at the first executive session of the industrial conference. It was not given out at the time, but was made public today.

"Russia and Germany are lacking cohesion and their suffering is acute," continued the premier. "Hourly this suffering is spreading. Great Britain is once more called upon to save the world. She must and will. It is largely by industrial unity we can accomplish this task."

"You are really a peace conference. Upon our deliberations depend largely not only peace in this country, but the world."

BRITAIN TO LEAD.

"Let the world cry: 'Let us follow Great Britain's example!'"

"Industrial unity here will make for a triumph of justice for the world over."

"I appeal to the employers and the workers not to try to get an advantage of each other. You are the trustees of the welfare and safety of the whole nation. You must be the foundation of the state. There must be a stream of prosperity over the whole land with no barren patches."

"We must banish unemployment. The future prosperity of our country is at stake."

was laid before the board by Mrs. L. E. Hochman, member of that body.

A complete investigation of the situation was ordered by the board.

LT. SESSIONS DECORATED; TO STAY IN ARMY

Army life has won First Lieutenant Harry C. Sessions of Oakland for all time. Wounded in the Champagne battles, awarded the Cross de Guerre and yesterday decorated with the Distinguished Service Cross in a ceremonial unique in Presidio annals, Lieutenant Sessions declared today that he will stay an officer in the regular army. Already he has been promoted to a captain and it is expected his elevation will be announced soon.

Lieutenant Sessions' citation followed him in the Presidio from France and found him in the Letterman General Hospital recovering from the wounds he received when he led his men in a gallant charge at Bussy Farm, France. The medal was awarded on the parade grounds by Brigadier General Frank B. Watson upon request of Lieutenant Colonel Northington, commandant of the hospital.

Five members of the Party-4th under Major Thomas passed in review before the commanding officer and Lieutenant Sessions, General Watson, taking his stand at the center of the parade grounds, read the citation and delivered this eulogy:

"Lieutenant Sessions was on duty in the rear of the main fighting line at Bussy Farm with the French soldiers and General Council. He was directed by his battalion commander to locate openings through the enemy's wire and attack positions. He hastened to the front and cut a large opening through the wire in the face of terrific machine gun fire. Just as his task was completed he was so severely wounded that he had to be carried from the field. His gallant and heroic deed was the cause of the capture of the enemy positions."

The medal pinned to his chest, Lieutenant Sessions stepped back to his place before the line of the regiment, the band of which played military airs in his honor.

Formerly Sessions was in the real estate business in Oakland, but was practicing as a mining engineer. He there enlisted under General Pershing and was sent to Camp Kearny as a second lieutenant when America mustered her forces. He was promoted to first lieutenant in France.

MANY INVISIBLE SHIFTING LIGHT EFFECTS AMAZE

Under the clusters of streamers and festoons of paper that decked the auditorium last night for the artists' ball was one of the most remarkable inventions in lighting effects ever used in an affair at the hotel. Stage light borders and "baby spotlights," borrowed from the Auditorium Theater, were installed by "Billy" Daul, electrician here, and Auditorium, and these cast shifting shades of light, the source of which could not be seen through the paper decorations, the effect being mysterious in the extreme.

The lights were handled by a corps of theatrical electricians, working from the mezzanine floor.

MUST RETURN TO JOBS IN 60 DAYS

All Oakland city employees, absent on war leave, except those in the armed forces of the United States, must report back for duty within sixty days or lose their jobs. This is the order issued today by the Civil Service board, following last night's consideration of "war work" leaves of freedom in shipyards, clerks in the Y. M. C. A. and other places now working in Washington.

"The war is over and there is no vital necessity for these people staying away from their jobs," said George Kluwe, chairman of the board.

The sixty-day rule applies to all absentees on war work leave where the holders of the leaves are in the United States. Those abroad will be considered at next Tuesday night's meeting of the board.

Walter Priestland, assistant city engineer and former army captain, just returned from service, applied last night for a leave of absence. He was discharged from that of assistant engineer to assistant inspector of streets. A decision will be made Tuesday night.

U. C.'S PART IN WAR TOLD BY WHEELER

TRIBUNE BUREAU
201 SHATTUCK AVE.
BERKELEY, March 5.—One out of each three men registered in the University of California volunteered for the national service during the year following the declaration of war with Germany. After the close of the University year in May, 1918, almost the entire number of men in the graduating class enlisted immediately. Before the signing of the armistice more than 7,000 sons of the University had enlisted.

These are facts relative to the war service rendered by university men brought out in President Bend's lecture at the University of California last night.

PART U. C. PLAYED.

"The part that the University has played in the war is well evidenced by the war service record which has been published as a supplement to this report," President Wheeler stated. "The University has not voted itself without stint to liberty loan sales and purchases, Red Cross subscriptions and war work campaigns. The faculty and students have been ready and eager to participate. A glance through the war service record will convincingly testify to the wholehearted response of the University to the spirit of the times and the task of the nation."

"It is probable that several hundred alumni and former students who have joined the military forces of the United States have not been listed because of the lack of data concerning such enlistment. To date, more than eighty have given their lives to the cause for which this nation entered the war."

VICTORY POSTAL STAMPS TO BE ON SALE SOON

Postage stamps, a new three-cent issue to commemorate the successful end of the war, will be on sale shortly throughout the country. The supply will not be sufficiently large to replace the regular three-cent stamp, and postmasters will sell victory stamps only on request.

The new stamp bears the figure of Liberty Victorious, helmeted and with a sword in one hand and scales in the other.

The whole design appears upon a shaded panel with American, British, French, Italian and Italian flags draped for the background. It is wider and shorter than the ordinary stamps.

WOMEN DID IT.

FORD TO BUILD $350 AUTOS IN COAST PLANT

PASADENA, March 5.—Before boarding his private car today on the first lap of his journey back to Detroit, Henry Ford announced he will build a new factory with a branch on the Pacific Coast that will turn out motorcars at a price of $350. The factory will be separate from the Ford Motor Company, and will be owned entirely by the Ford family. It will be at least a year before the new car is put on the market, he said.

Piedmont Man ON WILSON'S SHIP

"Prent" Gray of Piedmont is off with President Wilson and his party on the George Washington today. The passenger list of the transport that carries the executive back to his labors at Versailles includes this entry:

"Prentice N. Gray, United States Food Administration."

Gray, who was the last man out of Belgium when the Germans halted the Hoover food dispensing regime in that stricken country, is going back to the continent on a job similar to the one he held when he left America to assist.

For three years Gray was principal assistant to Herbert C. Hoover on the commission for the relief of Belgium. In fact, that commission depended largely on University of California assistants, Clare Torrey and a number of other Blue and Gold men, in addition to Gray, worked at Hoover's relief fund.

Prentice Gray's job now is chief of the Overseas Transport Division of the Food Administration.

GIRL AFRAID TO GO HOME FOUND IN CHICKEN COOP

Carmelita Batrape, thirteen years old, reported missing six days ago by her parents, was found last night hiding in a chicken coop in the rear of her parents' home at 1221 Eighth-street. Inspector Penton Thompson, of the Oakland police, was interviewing her parents when he noticed the peculiar antics of the chickens and investigated.

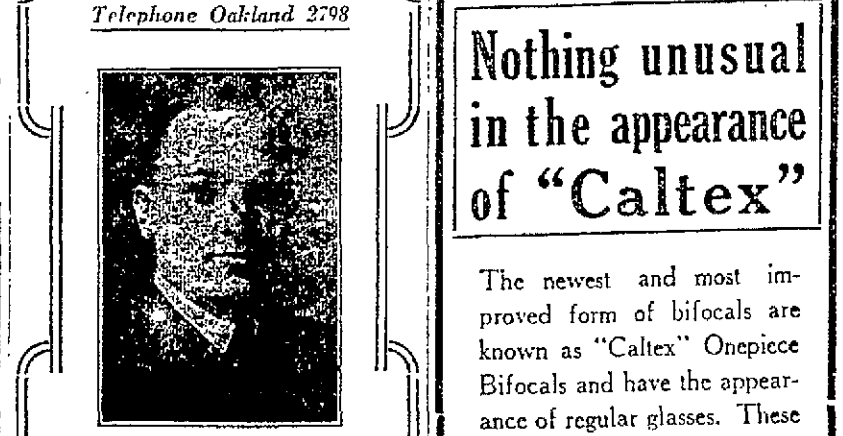

The girl said she had feared punishment for coming home late after a party and had stayed with girl friends in the neighborhood. She was coming home last night, she said, when she saw the policeman and hid in the coop.

FIVE BURGLARIES ON POLICE SLATE

Five burglaries were reported to the police within the last 24 hours. D. J. Johnson reports his room at the Arlington hotel burglarized. Joseph Pitta informs the police that his saloon at Seventh and Pine streets was entered and a small quantity of loot taken. A note was left in the ceiling of a store of Max Groden, 914 Washington street, that the place had been entered. The residence of L. V. Johnson, 822 East Seventeenth street, was entered. H. Haskins reports that Fourth-street burglars during the night someone dimmed the rear window of his store and stole a miscellaneous lot of merchandise.

Exchange Is to Banquet March 18

Final arrangements for the two-day, fourth annual banquet of the Oakland Merchants' Exchange, to be held at the Hotel Oakland at 6:30 on the evening of March 18, were completed at a meeting of the exchange last night. Invitations, which are not to be confined to the membership, will be mailed out tomorrow. About 250 guests are expected. According to the officers of the exchange, there has been entirely too much talking at former banquets of that body and steps are being taken to forestall oratorical efforts on this occasion. With that object in view, the invitations bear this somewhat facetious caution: "Anything who attempts to speak will be sent home."

Fifty new members identified themselves with the exchange at the meeting and express their desire to cooperate in any way they can to promote the interest of the organization and to work for the upbuilding of Oakland. This is the largest number of candidates accepted by the exchange at one time in several years.

BERKELEY CALLS SCHOOL ELECTION

BERKELEY, March 5.—Formal call for Berkeley school bond election scheduled for March 25, was issued this afternoon by the board of education at special meeting.

Final details were arranged by the board for submitting a bond issue aggregating $2,500,000 to the voters of the city to meet school needs. According to law the formal call must be officially published in a public place and all other details of the election must be arranged by the board.

The board at its meeting yesterday received a communication from the Berkeley Schoolwomen's Club, Anna E. Wilson, president, endorsing the bond issue and offering its support in the campaign for the success of the measure.

WOMEN HOPEFUL FOR STATE FARM

The Women's Legislative Council of California with its 90,000 members and the military authorities operating with them under the direction of Major S. P. Coar, U. S. A., who are sponsoring a bill before the state legislature to appropriate funds for the establishment of an industrial farm for delinquent women, are hopeful of victory since the passage of a similar bill on Saturday by the United States Senate.

Mrs. A. K. Carter, president of the Legislative Council, is in receipt of a wire from Washington, D. C., announcing that the Senate bill carried an appropriation of $215,000 for a home for delinquent women and was passed with but one dissenting vote.

"The folly of so-called 'clean-ups' without some provision being made for the women who are forced out of the cities has been proved," declares Mrs. Carter in support of the state measure. "The federal authorities urge the establishment of the industrial farms as imperative in the face of the nation-wide crusade against vice. If we are to profit by the results of the law enforcement these women must be cared for."

TERMINAL HERE BUSIEST COAST RAILWAY CENTER

Shipbuilding activities at Vallejo and Bay Point together with the joint use of Oakland pier by the Southern Pacific, Western Pacific and Santa Fe, have combined to make the Eastbay terminal the busiest railroad center on the coast. Not counting all the electric suburban trains, during 30 minutes of the morning, six trains leave Oakland Pier with seventy-two cars, and within a period of one hour at night eleven trains arrive with ninety-six cars. There are three special trains not shown on the timetable that carry over 2000 men night and morning between Oakland and Bay Point, and 1400 men between Oakland and the Mare Island Navy Yard. "On time" performances are being registered despite the rush.

Two Chinese Indicted on Extortion Charge

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—Two Chinese were secretly indicted on a charge of extortion by the grand jury here on evidence presented by District Attorney Charles Pickert. Wong Kok Lin, one of the Chinese named in the indictment, is arrested and Policeman Emil Hearn is searching for the other.

The indictment and arrest are the latest developments in the feud between the directors of the China Mail Steamship Company and an unknown clan in San Francisco Chinatown. It is charged that the two Chinese secured about $6,000 from the steamship company directors in part payment of $50,000 demanded of the directors.

VICTORY

...and cigarettes helped to win it

What a part the cigarette played!

In those grim, tense moments, waiting for the word to "go"; in that blessed lull, hours afterward, just before the relief party came; in those other, sterner moments when his spirit fought to smile, what was the thing he wanted most?

The cigarette!

And now, with the big job done; what so much as the cigarette will help "keep him smiling" until he's home again?

A fact:

Over 622 million Fatimas have so far been shipped to our soldiers abroad. And more are constantly on the way for the boys who still are over there.
